As August days continued to soar in the 100's we tried to get in that last minute of fun before starting back to school. Trying to keep cool, we spent time at the lake water skiing with friends or going sailing when we could catch a breeze. Others found a spot on the San Jacinto where there was a ropeswing and mudslide. As school rolled around we stopped going to the lake as much and centered our activities around school. Many students set aside Wednesday and Thursday nights for one thing, Paint Parties. Whether it was painting signs or driving around in trucks looking for underclassmen to egg, we all showed our school spirit. Another night time activity for many was meeting up at the Inverness Apartments where students gathered together to sing, have skits, and fellowship for Newlife.

We met together with our friends on the side of a road or in a parking lot to discuss how we would have fun next, who really should have won the last pep rally, or who was going out with whom. But on Friday when we got to the pep rally all discussion was set aside as each class cheered for the Tigers and the Spirit Stick. The Juniors were stronger than ever before, and the Seniors showed their spirit by winning their fourth homecoming pep rally. The Freshmen continued to improve each week and the Sophomores made sure that their class yell did not go unheard. The band added extra excitement to the pep rallies with their zany costumes and fine music. At kick off though we set aside individual class spirit and cheered as one for the Conroe Tigers. Just as the Tigers soundly defeated the other team so did our Band, Golden Girls, Tiger Paws, and fans.

With all these outside activities some teachers and parents wondered how we had time for school. We, however, did make time as some seniors visited the library for the first time in their four years of high school education searching for the Greek's good man and history current events. Juniors also made use of the library preparing their author research papers. At lunch time we journeyed to the cafeteria or snuck out because all food of substance such as cokes, candy, and Oreos had been band from the lunchroom. After lunch and between class we talked to friends to see if that math or English test was as hard as we were hearing. Then we would hurry back to class and ask the never-too-busy teacher a question or two saying we don't understand. If we had a spare moment during class girls would fix each others hair and guys would tell how their car could do 150 m.p.h. in the quarter or truck go through the deepest mudhole. Many people stayed after school and practiced plays, routines, or did pages for the annual, newspaper, or literary magazine. We played, socialized, and learned together as a group — Conroe High School — and no one could defeat us because we were number one at whatever we did.

Susie Dalt and Ginger Dickinson look on as Melanie Perkins begins painting on a Homecoming sign.

School work was practically forgotten when C.H.S. students plunged into the weeks of preparation for Homecoming '80. As the students handled the decorating, the football players handled the bigger end of the deal, getting ready for the big game against Jersey Village. Girls frantically tried to pull themselves together for their big dates. Guys worked overtime in order to treat their favorite female to an elegant dinner on Homecoming night.

The cafeteria brought decades from the 40's-70's alive again. As Friday afternoon approached, students and exes were packed in the gym to add even more to the pep rally excitement. The long awaited announcement of the spirit stick gave the class of '81 the honor once again, making this the fourth consecutive year that the class of '81 had walked away with the Homecoming spirit stick. Later, the most anticipated moment came when Adrienne Heins was crowned as the 1980 Homecoming Queen. A perfect day came to a close as the Tigers defeated Jersey Village 40-7.

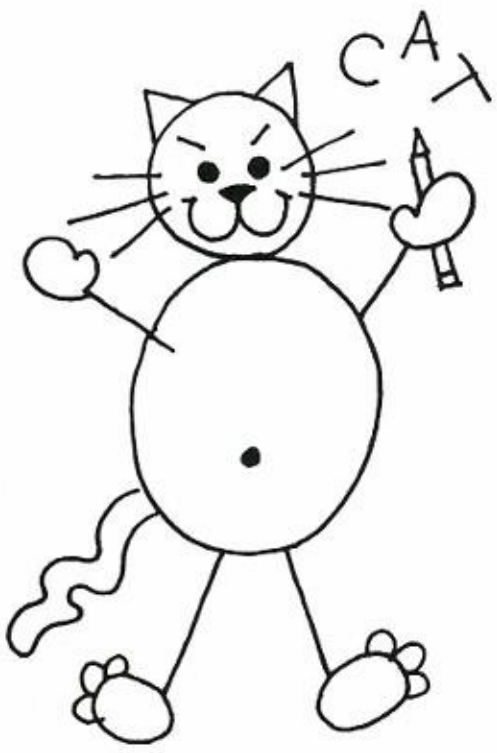
"Thank God it's Friday!" The end of the week had finally arrived! Fridays brought a variety of feelings for students at CHS. Some anticipated big dates, parties, or other special events. During the football season students, as well as faculty and townspeople, prepared for the big game every Friday night. After the season was over when people had no definite plans for a Friday night, groups packed into the movie theaters or just enjoyed shootin' the breeze at a favorite meeting places such as "the road." Most students tried to keep their Friday and Saturday nights to a low roar because Saturday and Sunday mornings required early rising for jobs and church. We all agreed that the different styles of weekends brought a needed break from school and on Monday we were ready for another week at CHS — looking forward to Friday of course!

While the cat's away...



Classroom antics played a major role in the daily activities at Conroe High. The 1980-81 school year found a new breed of teachers in force, as brass and brawn became vital attributes! Teachers battled bubble-blowers and note passers (while still present in the room), but the real action began when the "cat" was away. A typical school week followed a schedule of variety, as the pace accelerated from the slow creep of Monday mornings to the mad rush of Friday afternoons. These moods varied from one day to the next, and were reflected in the classroom as well as in the halls.

All hope for perfect conduct was not lost, however, as the end of each semester loomed ominously in the minds of many class clowns. Report card time was met with frazzled nerves by both frustrated students and bone-weary teachers. While signalling the end of one six-week battle, it marked the beginning of the next as well.

Trend setters
Attention-getter

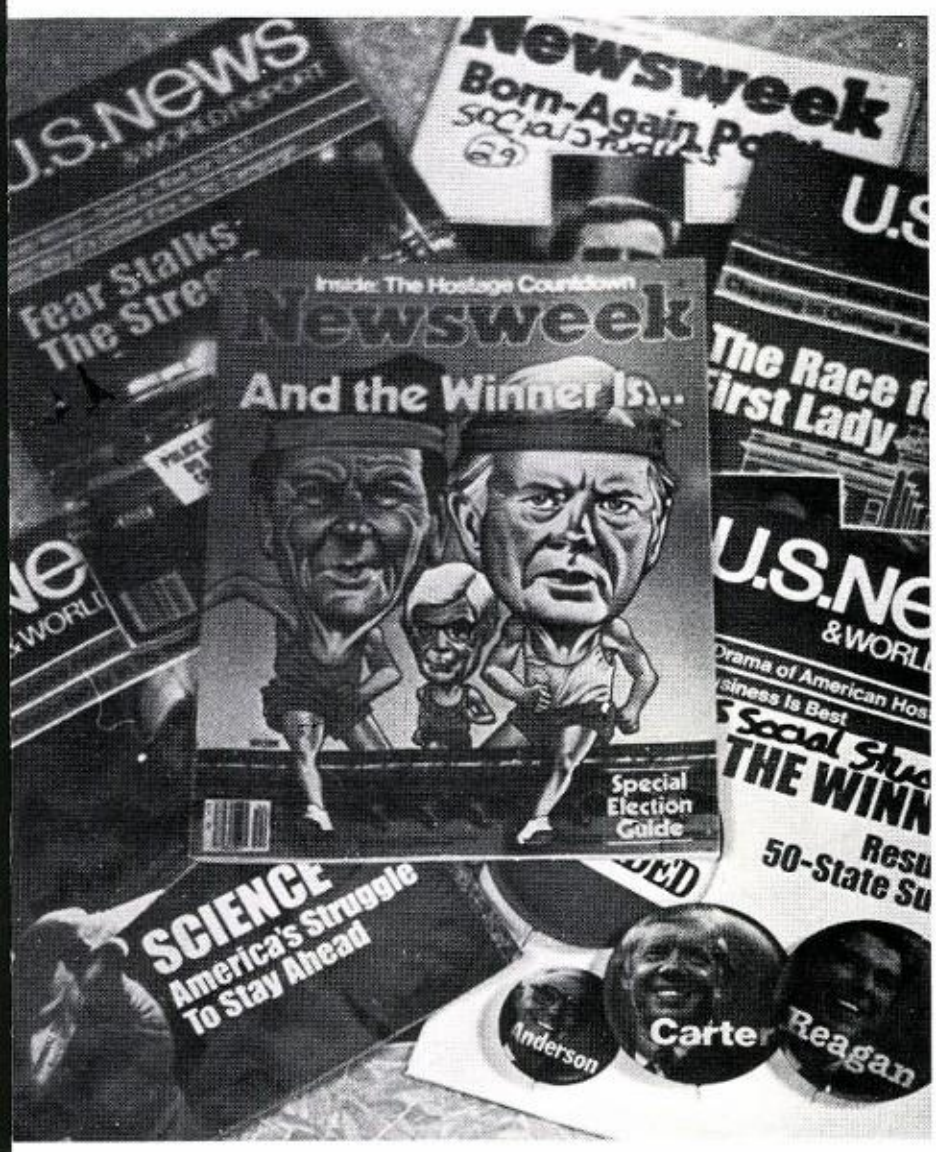
Comfortably dressed in western wear, Larry Rogers and Ross Williams confirm the general clothing trend for guys.

From overalls to designer baggies, our 1980-81 school year encountered a large variety of apparel. The disco look of past years gave way to a new and fashionable line of western wear for guys and girls, while calf-length dresses took a back seat to leggier slit skirts. This was the year of a western boom, with the movie, Urban Cowboy, setting the trend. The silver screen glittered with comedy flicks and popular remakes of old favorites, and we flocked to the theaters for weekend entertainment.

Changes evolved on the national level as well, and 1981 saw the inauguration of our new president, Ronald Reagan. The issue concerning the hostage crisis and the deaths of such famous figures as Steve McQueen, John Lennon, and Colonel Sanders were met with nationwide disappointment. Despite the serious upsets, student life at Conroe High remained content with its wild weekends and rigorous routine.

Not necessarily for dirty work, overalls are proven by Deann Buckalew to be popular school wear as well.

Displaying a sense of fashion, Chelly Morton and Katherine Reese prove "baggies" the attention-getters of the season.



From comedy to tear-jerker, the movie selection was wide.

Magazines reflect universal changes from the hostage crisis in Iran to the U.S. presidential election.

Amidst a setting of "Moonlight and Roses," Coronation 1981 welcomed the crowning of a new Queen of the FLARE. Representing the Drama Club, Linda Leming was awarded the honor by escort King Ross Williams. In a more complete atmosphere, six new clubs entered candidates to bring the total participation to 42 royal courts. Serving as a long-time favorite Master of Ceremonies was Mr. Glenn Winn, and coordinator of the entire event was FLARE sponsor, Mrs. Gloria Traylor. The audience enjoyed a combination of talents from Angela Meyer's Academy of Dance, with musical entertainment by Garrett and Hayden Braun. Performing the Royal Ballet for the new Queen was Gina Stockton from Karen's Dance Unlimited, and rounding out the evening of excitement, Troubador John White sang his Serenade to the Queen, "Lady." Immediately following was a reception for all participants where students danced and breathed an exhausted sigh of relief for the closing of another memorable Coronation.

Gracing a beautifully-set stage are 42 anxious candidates.

American Graffiti ...

Compared to the rest of America, Conroe town showed originality in the way of graffiti. The boarded-up 7-11 provided an inviting canvas for the Picasso with a paint brush. This closed down store even caused a war between the classes. Each group of seniors artistically proclaimed that "they were the best!" During football season the sign expressed feelings of our team, and of the opposing teams. Although the 7-11 store was most evident, other areas such as school windows, cars and license plates also bore traces of graffiti. Even local businesses expressed themselves through means of billboard signs. Although football games brought about the greatest urge for self expression, everyone seemed to get into the graffiti scene at one time or another.

As Golden Girls look on, Freshman Lea Brock sings a solo of "Stand for the Gold and White."

A new dimension was added this year at Conroe High School as the freshmen moved in with just under 1000 members. Being in high school was a lot different from junior high as many freshmen found out. For one thing, waking early enough to be at school by 7:30 was shock to most, but the 2:20 dismissal made up for that quickly. The Freshmen took the tiger by the tail and put up a good fight for the right of the spirit stick. Feelings were hurt and prides dimmed after paint parties were raided by upperclassmen. Beginning their high school career of reading novels such as Lord of the Flies, "Fish" found a new twist to study habits. The freshmen had begun to show that they were the best forevermore, they are the Class of '84.

Finding new excitement at the pep rallies, the class of '83 moved down from the rail and took a stand in the bleachers along with the other upperclassmen. No longer considering themselves awkward freshmen, sophomores weren't the least bit embarrassed to make themselves heard in the pep rallies. The gym wasn't the only place which boasted of sophomore presence, but the main building was also quickly made aware of their step up the ladder.

Along with the privileges of having a place in the pep rally, moving into the main building, and being able to eat in the main cafeteria, acquiring a driver's license was the most outstanding event of the sophomore year.

Sophomore dedication paid off when they were honored with several spirit sticks and the spirit chain award. Impatiently we waited, and we will continue to wait and see, if the best will actually be in '83!

This stop sign portrayed junior spirit.

Being a junior at CHS was an important and exciting time for the class of 82. The year brought thoughts of college and nervous students anxiously awaited their PSAT scores. Some were pleased with the results, but others realized that it was time to buckle down. Football season brought along a great display of enthusiasm and spirit from the juniors as they spread grafitti and contributed a lot to the pep rallies by winning the spirit stick often. Towards Christmas, the juniors cringed at their empty pockets but outwardly beamed as they showed off their new senior rings. The holidays also brought around the time for the dreaded research papers. After this assignment came the traditional magazine drive which put an air of friendly competition between class members for the honor of being high salesperson, winning pizes and the privilege of tickets to the Junior-Senior Prom. The close of the year brought a sense of accomplishment as the juniors anticipated their opportunity to make a claim to the Senior halls of fame.

Senic

The special school year finally rolled around, and a new breed of seniors stepped out at Conroe High. Destined to be "the ones to watch," Senior members adjusted to changes even as early as in the summer, when variations on the Senior pictures were experimented with. Always a class with a unique flair, the class of '81 spotted the pep rally scene to capture an occasional spirit stick and set a four-year record of winning the Homecoming pep rally. Also an important part of the final year's schedule was the annual and hectic Senior Blood Drive, a last chance for many to work as a group as the Seniors of '81. Many found an increase in the workload at school, yet discovered an equally positive increase in teacher-student relationships. Being a senior was more than just a filled homework schedule; it was finally being looked up to by admiring underclassmen.

In a reversal f roles, male members of both the Junior and Sen- r classes were found turning cartwheels, building yramids, and prissing around in their version of heerleading regalia. Despite the competitive situa- on, friendships and fun remained the dominant spects, and the spirit of the game made it an enjoy- ble activity for all involved. Auto Body ...
Painting on a Shine

While learning the basic fundamentals of Auto Body repair and painting, students learned how to use and take care of power tools and above all learned about safety. Students were taught not only through textbooks, but were also able to learn through firsthand experience from sanding off old paint to having a sparkling "new" automobile to admire with a feeling of accomplishment.

Besides bringing in the new year, Auto Body students were also preparing for competition. District competition was held in February at Port Arthur, Texas, with students competing in skills from two to four hours long. These skills were performed in front of judges who judged on precision and workmanship. The students who received first place ribbons qualified for the State competition held in April at Dallas, Texas.

Auto Mechanic members started the year off learning the basic techniques of repairing automobiles. These techniques included those necessary for a front end alignment and adjusting brakes. Money earned for the parts needed in repairing mechanical difficulties were earned through the community bringing their automobiles in for repair.

With the coming of a new year, students were preparing for competition. District competition was held in February at Port Arthur, and State competition held in April at Dallas, Texas. Students competed in mechanical skills and projects and were judged on workmanship.

If you have ever stopped into the marine repair class, you probably thought you were in a professional marina boat shop. Students in Marine Repair not only learn how to repair boat motors, but also all kinds of other small motors as well as fiberglass.

This year students did contract work to finance their club and area competitions. The club members attended a leadership conference at Beaumont, Texas in November. The Conroe High Chapter of Marine Repair hosted the District competition in March. In May students attended competition in Fort Worth where they were judged on mechanical ability. Top students advanced to state competition. All things considered, marine repair had a very successful year.

For Construction Trades Members, "Building" is their middle name. In this club, students discovered invaluable skills for future work in the business world. Members learned and used high standards of workmanship and trade ethics in building a house, during classes, near the Vocational Building. These high standards were also applied to work used for fund-raising: building picnic tables, dog houses, and doing repair work. A VOCT Regional Contest was held at the Conroe Area Vocational School on March 28, 1981 with many local winners. These students went on to the state meet for competition on May 1st and 2nd at the Tarrant County Convention Center in Fort Worth. Working individually but as a group, Construction Trades Members learned to reach their goals without prejudice — knowing that they had the same rights.

Building Trades:
Foundations of Tomorrow

Organization, knowledge and hard work are what it takes to be a successful building trades member. This past year students relied on these qualities throughout the building of a $50,000 house in Artesian Oaks. Profits from the sale of the home will be used for building materials next year.

From the beginning of construction to the time when the home was sold in the spring, students were kept very busy. Outside the doors of their workshop in the vocational building sounds of hammers, saws, and drills could be heard as students prepared for their next day's work.

Through the leadership of their sponsor, Mr. Summy, students learned organization, how to work with others, and most importantly they were trained for entry level employment in the building industry.

Welders Add Spark to Metal Trades

Sparks flew as Metal Trades students started working early in the year on individual projects for VICA contest. This year's competition was held in February at Port Arthur, Texas. Students were judged on ability of accuracy and skills. Outside of the long hard hours spent on these projects, members also dedicated part of the year to making wind chimes and doorknockers. These were sold around the school and community to support club funds. Throughout the year, members received an education in a field that will benefit them in the future.

Radio and TV Operates with Frequency

Many members of our community utilized the services of CHS's vocational Radio and TV department directed by Bill Tabot. Students raised funds by servicing and selling appliances to local customers. Projects ranged from hair dryers to complex circuit boards. Aside from raising funds, the shop helped members to increase individual skills and develop a sense of responsibility.

Members started working very early in the school year on individual projects for district competition. This was where all the hard work was rewarded with the distribution of plaques to the winners.

Mrs. Taylor's data processing class

What do computers and a classroom have in common? A lot if you are a student in data processing. Student learn key punch and programming proficiency. Those students who are recommended are placed in part-time administrative jobs. The data processing club has grown from sixty-five to seventy members showing the growing interest in this broad field. Besides learning a skill, students also learn to work together and have a sense of responsibility. The data processing classes and other O.E.A. (Office Education Association) classes elected their data processing sweetheart and had their officer installation in October. Data processing also had a civic service project this year. Data processing students also went to area competition where students placing first and second advanced to state competition. To finance these trips, the club sold giant coloring books and computer printed posters. Data processing was not all work this year. They had a Christmas party and wrapped up a successful year with an end of the year picnic.

AC — Beats the Hea

This year the Air Conditioning Department, under the supervision of Mr. Melvin Jones, worked on many useful projects. With an increased membership of twenty-nine members, they met in shop during school hours and worked on various projects, ranging from repairing a fan to handling a compressor. Students raised money by selling attic insulation to Conroe residents. The money was used for VICA competition at Port Arthur, Texas, in February, and for a trip to the state contest. Extra excitement came from a visit to Six Flags in Dallas, Texas. The main project this year was insulating a home in Foster Oaks. Throughout the year members learned skills which will last them a life time.

Printing Trades ... Leaves a Print on CHS

Patience, time, and the will to learn were the qualities Printing trade members possessed in their work. This two year course taught students how to compose copy, stripping and printing of negatives, and learning how to bind. Among the projects members completed, were the making of notepads and binding the student handbooks for Conroe High.

While completing projects for others, members were also creating their own projects preparing for competition. Such projects were designing a color picture and stripping a negative in a specific time element. This year's competitions were District at Port Arthur in March and State held in April at Dallas, Texas.

Love and Laughter Light Up Little Faces

Leading the way for the development of young minds was the task of Child Care members. Throughout the day there was the routine of playing games, learning times, taking naps, and nature walks. Students learned through technical knowledge in the classroom as well as actual lab experience. The Child Care students studied the emotional and physical development of the children while watching it happening around them. The parents of the children kept by the Child Care members are C.H.S. employees. There are 15 children ranging from 3 to 5 years of age. The students were kept very busy all year with activities from celebrating birthdays and holidays to taking field trips to day care centers and having guest speakers. Through the guidance of their sponsor, Marian Pearce, students developed skills qualifying them for employment as aids in Child Care fields.

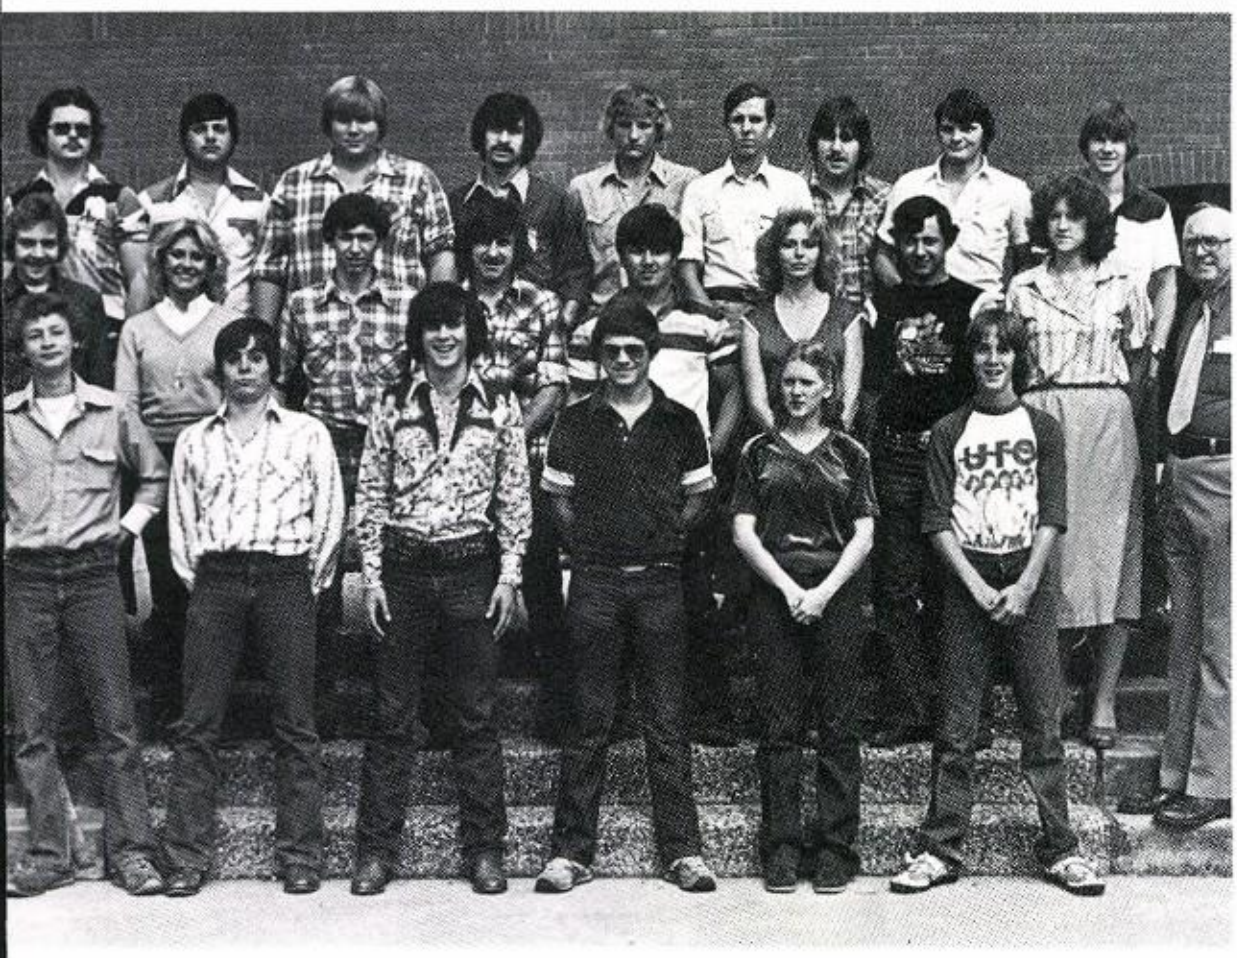
Inspiring Careers in Teens



Earning while learning is the main aspect of I.C.T. Industrial Cooperative Training students gained valuable experience to be used in their future and earned pay as well. I.C.T. members learned to do their jobs better by studying related technical information in class, and then combining that information with their on-the-job skills. They worked at various businesses such as Diamond J. Motors, Moran Utilities, Franklin Machine Works Inc., and Gulf States Utilities. The members also used the skills they learned to compete in the Area contest held in Port Arthur. By learning a vocation I.C.T. members were better prepared for a highly competitive job market.

Ind. Arts Cleans Up With Spirit

Beginning with a new school year, the Industrial Arts club achieved a never before membership of 267 making themselves second in the nation. They started the year off with a get acquainted fishing trip and fish fry. Soon after this, a fund-raising project was the selling of Drix, a multi-purpose cleanser and degreaser. This brought on the sale of the spirit chain competition against McCullough. Sophomores took honors with 68,000 links which combined with the other classes made a total of 168,482 links, successfully winning over McCullough's 85,000. Other activities members took part in were various field trips, worknights, monthly meetings, and the annual banquet held in May.

While there was always fun, students soon began preparing for competition held in the spring. Students entering in drafting were judged on technical drawings, architecture, and various other entries. Wood making students entered such things as deskplates, cutting boards, and other wood projects. Metal working students had such projects as sheet metal, welding, lathe projects, and art metals. Local competition was held in April at the Vocational Building, with Regional in April at Huntsville, and State held in May at Waco.

What do blueprints and C.H.S. have in common? Everything if you're in Vocational Drafting. Vocational Drafting is a program geared to train students for entry in an occupation as a drafter. A student enrolled in the two year program will have had 1050 hours of drafting instruction upon completion of the course. The three hour course covered drafting techniques in all different phases of drafting. To finance their club's activities, the drafting class sold key chains and Christmas ornaments this year. Students who graduated this year will be ready to immediately enter the drafting field as skilled draftsmen. Vocational Drafting is two years that will last a lifetime.

Preparing Today for the World of Work

While gaining on the job experience, students in VOCT (Vocational Opportunities Club of Texas) also aided the community. The students of Mrs. Simmons, sponsor of Chapter 454 and Mr. Rivet, sponsor of Chapter 385, worked at many local businesses such as, Ben's T.V., Standard Motors, Paner's Supply, Bonanza, and Autumn Hills. During the spring, students went to area and state competitions. They competed in the fields of leadership abilities and citizenship. The VOCT activities promoted an appreciation for the American way of life, developed individual pride in workmanship, and developed an understanding for the world at work.

Cosmetology: Doing it with Style

Cosmetology students "brushed up" on their techniques in hair styling, manicuring, wiggery, and make-up application in preparation for the state board examination held in Austin, Texas. Passing this skills and knowledge test meant a beautician's license and the start of a promising career. Throughout the year the girls practiced on models as well as on each other. The classes were often visited by hair styling and cosmetic artists demonstrating the latest fads. Members subsidized club funds by working on customers for a minimal fee.

The 1980-81 Distributive Education Class

In Distributive Education students gained valuable experience in the working world while getting a necessary education. Students held various part time jobs in the local community. This gives students the opportunity upon graduation to immediately enter the field of their choice as an experienced worker. The Distributive Education Club went to area competition in February and the top seventeen students went to the State Development Conference in March. Distributive Education made a great contribution to our community and the students of C.H.S.

Developing Through OEA-VOE

Learning office skills, Cheryl Cooper brushes up on her typing.

"We are met in a spirit of friendship and good will as we prepare for lives of service in office occupations. We work together to attain the goals of OEA and pledge our loyalty to our nation." These words, the OEA Pledge, signified the feelings and ideals of VOE members as they learned and used office skills. The approximately sixty members in VOE attended regular meetings and sold M&M's during September and October to raise money for parties, an Employer-Employees Banquet, equipment supplies, and contest expenses. During the Spring, DEA members competed at contests on the area, state, and national levels. Under the guidance of Mrs. Carolyn Walker and Mrs. Lindy Bingham, these students learned business skills and about the business world, preparing for future occupations: being file clerks, receptionists, secretaries and word processors.

FFA . . .
Finest Farming Adolescent

190 members participated this past year in Conroe's Future Farmers of America chapter. Competing with area high schools and surrounding counties, the FFA brought home many awards to add to their already awesome collection. Aside from working on their class projects, members traveled to Houston in February to participate in the largest Livestock Show in Texas. When March came around, Conroe's FFA could be found at the Montgomery County Fair where they proceeded to dominate the award winning. Members also learned to develop skills in public speaking, welding, horticulture, and wood working; all of which are vital assets to a farmers success.

In order to finance their various trips, the FFA held a traditionally profitable fruit sale. Members also held a fund raising dance which gave them a chance to kick up their heels and have a good ole time like all farmers should.

Duplicating performance

VOCCT (Vocational Office Careers Club of Texas) had a very fun-filled and successful year. Led by Mrs. Beth Cassels, the new club's sponsor, students participated in an Office Duplication Contest in April at the Six Flags Hotel, where they received plaques and ribbons for their fine performances. Cookbooks, containing recipes contributed by Conroe Vocational teachers, were printed by classes to raise money for ODP equipment. Throughout the course of the year, students learned parliamentary procedure and how to handle money. VOCCT prepares students for jobs in printing and for getting along with others. Members ended the school year with a party before adjourning for a well-earned vacation.

All in a Day's Work

While most of us have trouble just going to school, HERO (Home Economics Related Occupations) members attended school and work. Besides their job, they met the second Wednesday of every month and during class periods to discuss their experiences at work. There were programs every month where members listened to guest speakers and learned of the many opportunities available to them through home economic careers. It was not all work and no fun. HERO students had a Christmas open house for their employers and an Employer-Employee Appreciation Banquet at the end of the year. Besides the extra money, HERO members learned responsibility and leadership which will prepare them for the working world.

A Striking Year

Everyone has heard this old saying; "Birds of a feather flock together." The Bowling Club put it to good use. Every Monday afternoon, members met at the 300 Bowl to perfect their game. They all shared this interest, so why not enjoy it together? This was how Mrs. Lynn Cartwright felt when she helped students form this club several years ago. Members often held tournaments among themselves. The students helped each other by pointing out good points along with the bad ones. The Bowling Club found a means of enjoyment, relaxation, and competitive satisfaction together.

Youth for Christ Spread Good News

Because of an intense feeling for God and His son, Youth for Christ members created close, personal relationships which unified them as Christians. Many activities tied them together, and to partly finance these activities, members sold jewelry. This successful business venture enabled them to have a Christmas party and to provide guest speakers for meetings. Every other Thursday morning and every other Monday night, these meetings were held to bring YFC participants closer to God and to tell others of the Good News.

Star-Gazing

What do parties, constellations, nebulas, night observations, and telescopes have to do with your everyday life? Alot, if you were a member of the Astronomy Club. Since this was a relatively new club at C.H.S. the members were few but they aimed their goals high. Meeting during their astronomy class, third period, and on Tuesday or Wednesday nights they acquired a vast knowledge in the subject of astronomy. "Star-Gazing" is an exciting hobby and the students gained a good background for careers in fields such as meterology. Led by their sponsor, Mrs. Joan Carr, members gathered in pastures late at night to get a glimpse of the galaxies. When the weather permitted students used their Celeston 8 telescope to study the galactic formations. The Astronomy Club members learned throughout the year that the heavens are interesting as well as amazingly beautiful.

Discovering Identities

The Psychology Club's 1980-81 calendar was filled with interesting events. These activities included a Christmas party, spring picnic, field trips to Sam Houston State University and Brenham State School, and numerous socials for the Montgomery County center for the mentally retarded.

The fund raising project for this year was the selling of silk homecoming mums. The club promotes interest in psychological well-being of self and others and familiarizes students with careers in psychology. The field trips to the different schools gave them the opportunity to learn how experiments are performed and to see psychological concepts in action.

Teaching students to appreciate theatre arts and a possible career in theatre was the goal of "Ma" Bell, sponsor of Drama and Thespian Clubs. Under her supervision the young actors put in their all to present several productions open to the public in the CHS Auditorium. Productions were financed by the sale of candies and donuts.

Students did take a little time out to kick up their heels at the annual Christmas party and the many cast parties. All the hard work and efforts paid off at the end of the year at UIL contest where Conroe again walked off with top honors.

Conroe, have enemies?

A firm handshake and a gift, what better way could there be to promote favorable relations between two people or better yet, two schools. Such was the case as the twelve members for Conroe High's Good Sportsmanship League worked towards establishing and maintaining good sportsmanship among Conroe High's rivals.

Members were chosen for their leadership qualities and their ability to get along with people. Every member was required to maintain a 'C' average in their classes. Three times a year, GSL members attended district meetings to represent Conroe High School's student body and promote sportsmanship throughout the district.

Good Sportsmanship League activities included a bake sale along with the compiling and presentation of a scrapbook to Mr. Harwell and head football coach, Buddy Moorehead. In addition, the GSL continued the tradition of meeting representatives from each school prior to each home football game and presenting them with a gift as a token of good sportsmanship.

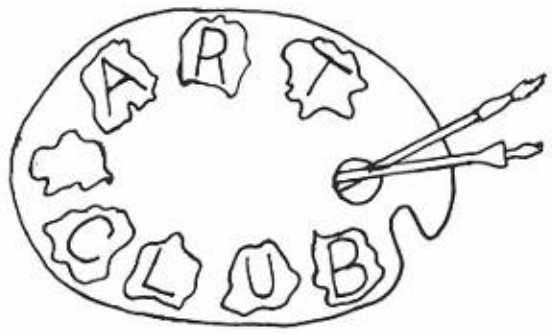
A Picture Can Paint A Thousand Words



Starting the year off with a bang, the Art Club participated in the Second Annual Pumpkin-carving Contest, sponsored by the Courier for Halloween. To raise money for activities, Art Club members successfully sold Crystallusions, and with their profits had a Christmas party at Dawn Glass' house. Continuing a long-standing tradition, members made ornaments and decorated the Christmas tree in the main office. In February, the Art Club hosted the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo Art Show and also held the annual Spring Art Show and contest. Sponsors, Cynthia Reid and Kathy Stoecker, along with club officers, also planned sketching field trips and a trip to the Art Institute of Houston. This year proved to be one of the best yet for the Art Club, with much promise for the future.

Everlasting Faith Through Christ

Throughout the twelve months of the year, New Life members were involved in various activities ranging from: canoeing and innertubing down the Guadalupe River, to fishing, and becoming involved in retreats at Forest Glen. Students participated in many activities at retreats with fun moments intermingled with serious moments. December brought the Christmas Party held at Starla Blancett's house with Christmas caroling in Rivershire and fellowship following.

Meetings were held every Monday night at 7:00 with singing, performing skits, games, and various other forms of fellowship. New Life helps students learn about the Bible and Christ, as well as to be themselves, relate to others, live life to its fullest, and experience an abundant life.

Opening New Doors for the Less Fortunate

A little time, devotion, love and caring were just a few of the qualifications required to be in the Key Club and CHS students showed an amazing degree of these qualities by hiking the membership from last year's 30 to an outstanding 150 this year. The 1980-81 year started out with the annual powder puff game where the Senior girls dominated the Juniors in touch football. Donations amounted to $500 and this money went to various service projects in the community, one of which was a Halloween costume party for students at the Conroe resource center. Next on the agenda was the Kiwanis Christmas parade. Soon afterwards, Key Club members warmed the hearts of many by bringing Christmas to underprivileged families. This included food, toys and most important — Santa and his elves. Members finished up the year with the Easter Seals telethon in which members' efforts were greatly rewarded by the community's participation.

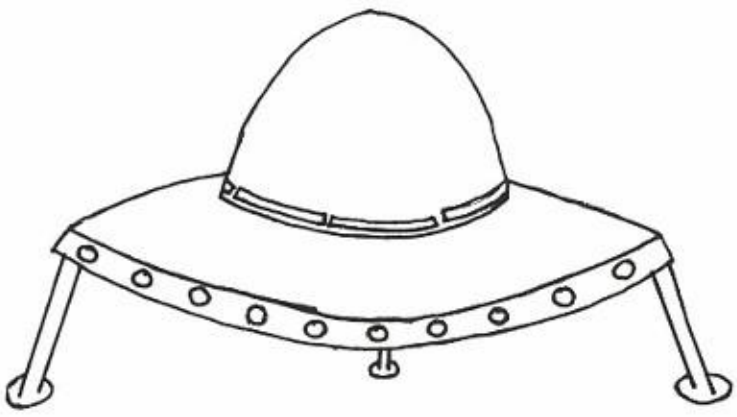
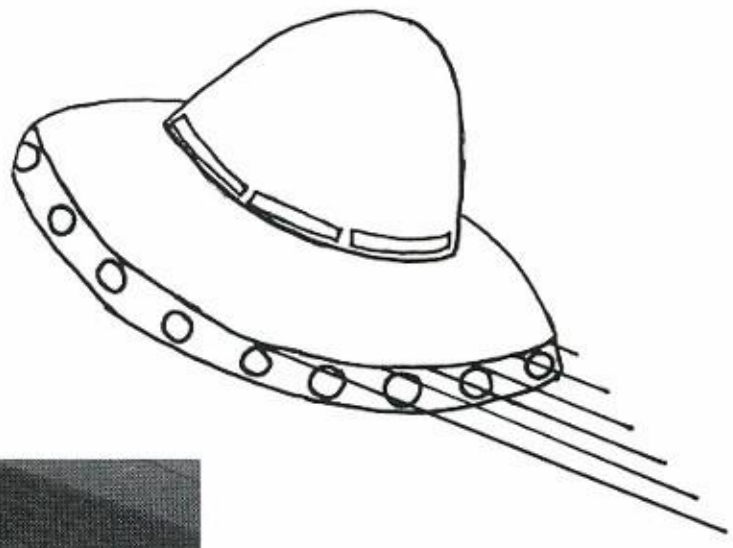
t's Out of This World ...





Made up of approximately twenty students, the Science Fiction Club has in the past two years become a reality to science fiction and fantasy lovers. Led by sponsor Raymond Koneceny, members held a Christmas party and attended various conventions throughout the year. On November 29th, Mysterykon II, a science fiction convention, was held at the Astrovillage Hotel, and Alpha Megadon (the club's formal name) members participated in the Dungeons and Dragons Tournament, winning a third place. Students involved in this club pooled their resources to produce and star in a movie — "Alien," an original creation. The members of Alpha Megadon met as a group with common interests in the science fiction and fantasy worlds and made a good start in Conroe High as one of the newest clubs.

Women Working Towards a Common Goal . . .

What did all the girl athletes at CHS have in common this past year? They all had an intense desire to be the best-better than any others. Why, of course that stands to reason. The girls had a tradition to uphold. Conroe is known for its domination in women's sports. The Tigerettes were the girls athletic association. It was composed of upperclassmen on any one of the CHS athletic teams. The Tigerettes realized that their goals could not be met without lots of sweat, pain, and determination, but they would not do it if they did not enjoy it. Along the way, they did take a break from the work for the 8th annual "Poppy Sales" for the American Legion which was held November 1. This activity gave all the girls a chance to spend the morning together. This club was formed several years ago in an attempt to create unity between team members of the various sports. After all they all do have something in common — they are the best.

. . . To Be the Best

A Stitch in Tim

Once again the Future Homemakers of America experienced a very rewarding year. It definitely will be one which will be hard to top by others. The FHA involved itself with various community organizations by providing volunteer services. Students dedicated themselves to an area nursing home during the Christmas season by decorating and offering companionship to the home's residents. Rounding out the semester was the annual Christmas banquet which was a father-daughter affair this year.

Many students' classroom activities were directed toward the Montgomery County Fair in March. Through participation in the Home Economics division, they got a chance to increase homemaking skills and successfully compete by exhibiting these skills.

FHA members were kept busy the entire year raising funds for scholarships and financing trips to area and state conventions. The sale of baked goods and Christmas ornaments provided the needed money. FHA worked to inform its members through special programs and special workshops. In November a boy-girl panel was organized so that members could ask questions concerning male and female relationships. Through workshops, students learned to work with others to meet comm goals and cope with everyday problems.

FHA prepared its members for commu ty involvement, responsibility, and leade ship. Students learned how to represent th school and how to get along with others. finish up another highly successful year f the FHA, they held a Mother-Daughter te At this traditional event, scholarships a senior awards were given out to deservi members. Learning the Ropes

"Will you marry me?"

"The defendant is to be hung."

These were common sayings in the Home and Family Living class as students were placed in real life situations and taught how to handle them. The club is composed of thirty members who are presently enrolled in or have taken the Home and Family Living class. Christmas ornaments were sold to finance the trip to state in San Antonio and for an outing to a dinner theater in Houston. Along with a Christmas party, members also enjoyed a get together to celebrate the coming of Spring. Besides a crash course on adulthood, students learned how to present a good self image. Throughout the year, Home and Family Living members found out a great deal about themselves and others.

Striving for Charisma in Athletics

Discussing and solving the unique problems in the life of athletes, was the purpose behind the newly founded organization, Fellowship of Christian Athletes. This club was started by David Greenfield and Mary Rook. Members met every other to discuss various topics in the boys' and girls' sects. and to listen to an occasional speaker. Funds were raised by a car wash held at American Bank in October and a faculty football game against some Houston pro athletes in February. Proceeds from these two events went to sending members to the National Conference at Estes Park, Colorado.

Honor Society

NHS Scholars Share Christmas Joy

With a membership of 120 for 1980-81, the National Honor Society inducted the first top 10% of its members in the spring of 1980. Following this in November, the remaining top 5% of the 1981 class were inducted with a ceremony at the Creighton Theatre. Requirements for these students to be a part of this club were maintaining a 5.5 average and a letter of recommendation from two people.

As a yearly fund-raiser members sold stationery to the student body and surrounding community. Money earned from this project went for the fall induction and club parties. These various parties included a weiner roast, a Christmas party at Kelly Haddox's house which included caroling and a hayride.

The main project NHS members undertook this year was Operation Santa Claus. Under the leadership of Mary Cox, members gathered clothes, toys, and made food baskets to take to needy families on Christmas Eve. While being a part of this prestigious club, members learned responsibility and leadership which will be beneficial to future endeavors.

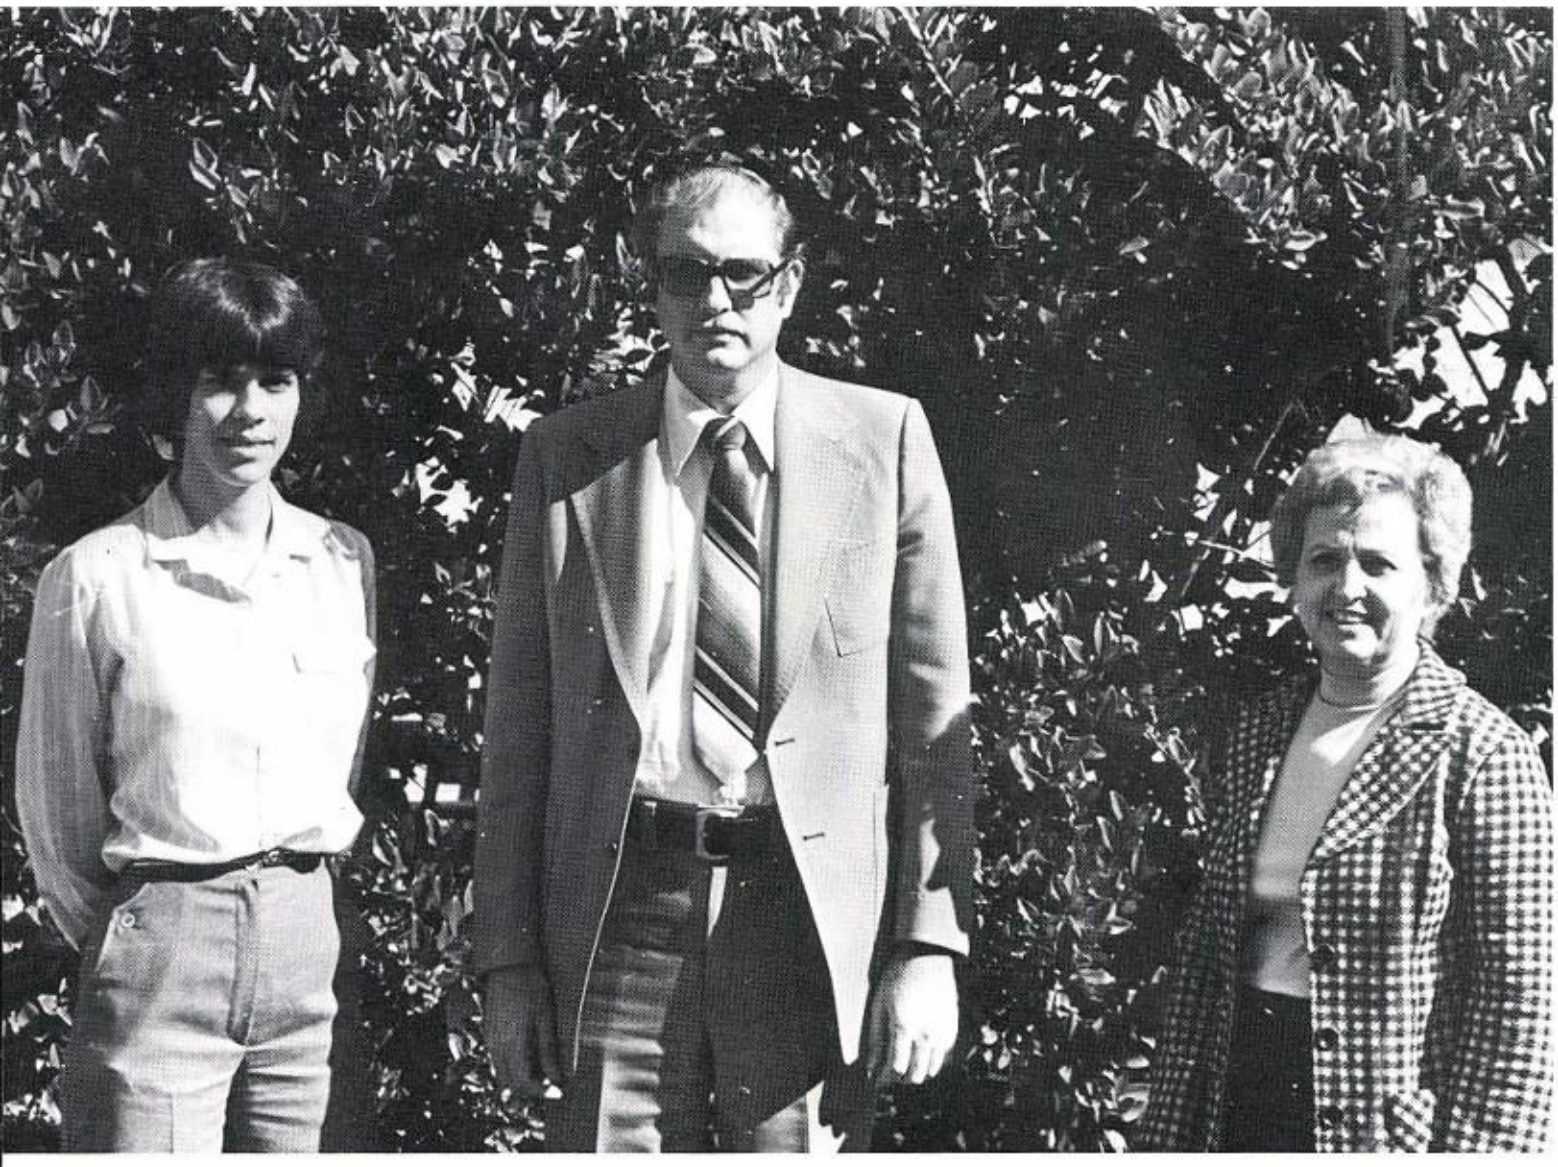
Student Council — C.H.S. "Powerplay"



Sponsors: Mrs. Slade, Mr. Zuber, Mrs. Wooten

It can be said C.H.S. Student Council certainly made their 'power play' in the right directions. Student Council was accredited with many worthwhile projects this year. The initiative and talent of these students who are elected to serve on the council by their fellow students, could be seen in many ways. First of all, the council sponsored a fantastic movie on self attitudes, Powerplay, and it was well received by the student body. Other projects accredited to the Student Council were Club Wars, Sadie Hawkin's week and the annual student talent show held in the spring. The Student Council sold Conroe High stickers to fund their activities and give an end of the year banquet for their members. Student Council did a fine job in serving their fellow students. C.H.S. is truly lucky to have such an enthusiastic group.

Performing in their Christmas opera the A Cappella Choir did an excellent job.

It's Honors, Awards, and . .

Good, better, best, this is the route in which the Conroe High choral department has taken as the five choirs have shot straight to the top. Activities got off to an early start with Choir Day at Sam Houston in which all five choirs performed. The schedule was kept busy by the annual Christmas concert, which was a true exemplification of musical harmony. Solo and ensemble contests were held at Waltrop High School where C.H.S. choral students received 13 1st ratings. All choirs also participated in the concert and sightreading contest held here at C.H.S.

A Cappella choir, the cream of this crop, has become one of the best in the state and continues to climb. This group captivated audiences with its performance of "Amahl and the Night Visitors." The operetta was performed at the Creighton and was a huge success. A Cappella again delighted its audience at a ceremony held at the First Baptist Church to welcome home the 52 American hostages.

The Swing Singers, which is considered the public relations group for the choir department, performed for many diences throughout the year. Besides normal choir functions this group perfo ed at the Homecoming half-time, for Lions and Rotary Clubs and also elementary and junior highs. The Sw Singers pleased all their audiences v their well performed song and da routines.

The Men's, Girl's and Advanced G Choirs participated along with the ot choirs in contest and at programs. Th groups are very important to the cl department as they furnish new talent add to the vitality of the program.

Le Cercle Français

Partying was the name of the game for French Club members throughout the year. Some of the activities included in their busy schedule were a Halloween Party, Christmas party, a party to celebrate the Mardi Gras, and a dinner at the Glass Menagerie where many students took in some disco dancing.

Under the direction of their sponsors, Mme. Bates and Mme. Jett students in French Club not only improved their fluency but explored France society and its customs. Included in this exploration was a trip to the Food Fair in Houston, and Foreign Language Day. Some students performed a can-can dance which is native to the French culture. Members made and sold their favorite French pastries as a part of their participation in Foreign Language Day held February 20th. These activities also raised money for the club funds.

The French Club was not just fun and games. It provided all students with an opportunity to experience aspects of French culture, food, songs, customs as well as a highly educational background in a beautiful Romance language.

Latin Club Revives Roman Cultur

Latin, the root of all modern language, helped to make English more understandable for Latin Club members by revealing the origins of many of our words. Students studied Latin in the classroom and participated in many activities that explored the relevance of Ancient Latin cultures in today's world. Among these activities were the Greek Festival, Renaissance Festival and competition at the Gulf Coast Classical Convention and the Texas State Junior Classical Convention. The Latin Club had a License Plate sale during the week of October 27th to help pay for these activities. The members also participated in Foreign Language Day by doing native Greek dances and mak traditional Greek foods to sell as a c fund raiser.

Latin Club was not all work and no pl Club members were entertained by Halloween and Christmas party. Th were by no means your typical club p ties, these were parties on wheels. T Latin Club has a lively tradition of hold a party in many different locations. It n be fun and dancing at one home, then to another for dinner and yet another dessert. Latin is in no way a forgot language, it is alive and kicking at Con High!

Deutsch ist Wunderba

The German Club began the year on the right foot this year, boasting a very large membership of about 70 students. Many events were enjoyed by this group, including a Hayride, Halloween Costume Party, and a trip to the Oktoberfest at the Bavarian Gardens in Houston. They also attended a Christmas Party, and enjoyed bowling as a group. Plans were made to participate in the Texas Association of German Students Convention held April 3rd and 4th in Arlington, Texas. To raise money for these activities, club members sold Christmas ornaments in November and December, and sold German style food for Foreign Language Day, February 20. Students in German took the AATG, or American Association of Teachers of German, National Tests in January to determine how well they knew that language. The German Club ended the year with a swim party to celebrate the close of a successful, fun-filled year.

Learning a foreign Language has proven to be very successful to many students. With the many Spanish-speaking countries within relative distance of the U.S., Spanish has come in very handy. The Spanish Club is one of the largest clubs of CHS and by far the largest of the language clubs, having 220 members. Led by sponsors, Mr. Usher, Ms. Smith and Ms. Bates, students learned about a lifestyle much different from their own. The year was opened with members experiencing Mexican food at Ricardo's. At the Christmas party, students combined the traditional Texas Christmas with some Spanish customs. Throughout the year, the club did not forget about some of the all-American pasttimes. A football game with members competing against each other, provi laughs for all involved. A skating pa was held at the end of the year, giv students a chance to bid "Adios" to t fellow members. A long-awaited surp was the birth of Mrs. Smith's baby g Summer. Foreign Language Day was usual, a thrill for everyone. Spa members had a chance to show off t gained knowledge through dances, so and food, all prepared and performed Spanish way. Foreign Language Day f sales brought in much of the money club activities. Above all, Spanish c members learned how to apprec Hispanic culture and have some fun w doing it.

Dauntless Staff Conquers Headlines and Deadlines

The 1980-81 Triumph Staff, under the leadership of co-sponsors Mrs. Mary Beth Perkins and Ms. Beverly Persons, spent many long hours working diligently to create eight eagerly-awaited issues. During the summer, staffers put in hours of work preparing the football programs which they sold at all the home games. During their summer "vacation," staff members also attended a Journalism camp, winning many individual honors and receiving awards for outstanding stories and page layouts. The Triumph, a newsmagazine developed by these outstanding Journalism II students, was a joint effort, showing hard work and perserverence toward the ideals of creating the best newsmagazine possible. The Triumph staff hosted the UIL Literary Tournament in the spring at McCullough High School, where between eight and eleven schools participated and competed for awards. March 13th and 14th marked the two days of the ILPC Convention, with approximately 7000 students from all over Texas attending, along with several staff members. A spring party recognized those staffers who put in that "little bit extra" to create a newsmagazine which Conroe High School students really appreciated.

Pride, Poise, and a Perfect Performance

This year, like all the years before, the Golden Girls reflected a sense of pride and service as they marched on the field during the half-time interim. But this year a new face has risen amongst this dazzling group, which brought it a new sparkle and a lot of style. This face is that of the new Golden Girl sponsor, Ms. Diane Watson. Ms. Watson brought with her a new philosophy and many great ideas. The Golden Girls amazed spectators during football season with versatile and precise exhibitions.

Through summer camps and long hours of training, during and after school, accelerated by individual determination and enthusiastic sponsor direction, the girls disciplined themselves to star performances at football and basketball games. Besides perfecting precision drills, they had the challenge of raising school spirit among the student body every Friday afternoon at pep rallies. The group also helped to boost the players for their games by decorating their lockers and baking them lots of goodies.

Along with performances at football and basketball games the Golden Girls p formed in competition. The Texas D Team competition held in Dallas and Lone Star Drill Team competition held San Antonio during March where th displayed prop, jazz, and high k routines highlighted their year. Compa A was honored by being asked to perfo on the Good Morning, Houston sho Golden Girls also put on a very enterta ing talent show.

Fund-raising projects included the s ing of football magazines and the d team clinic which provided funds for co petition expenses, props, uniforms, ba quets, and supplies.

The members year was not all work a no play. The Golden Girls enjoyed th Christmas banquet held at Walden which they were served dinner and changed gifts among themselves. Th spring banquet and marching in the a nual "Go Texan" parade rounded off year in which, quoting Ms. Watson, th reached "a goal of perfection."

THE 1980-1981 TIGER

MARCHING BAND

The Show Must Go On

Drum Major Robin Patison directs at halftime.

"Ladies and gentlemen, we are proud to present for your halftime entertainment the Conroe High School Tiger Marching Band!"Under the direction of Mr. John Rucker and new assistant director Rick Moffit, the band proudly showed its colors. The flag corps, drum corps, and twirlers took on a new, more professional look with the help of Mr. Moffit, who trained them with his specialized background in summer camps. Along with performing at football games, the band traveled to Cy-Fair Stadium and received a I rating for their superior performance at the UIL Marching Contest. To raise money, Band Boosters sold Sunday House Smoked Turkeys and band members sold Old World Cheeses. They also held two Solo and Ensemble Contests at Conroe High to raise money from concessions. On December 6th, the band made a special trip to Sulfur, Louisiana, to participate in an invitational marching contest with twenty other bands; they received a first division trophy for each of the following: Drum Major, Auxiliary (Flag Corps), and band. Creating a new tradition, "Honorary Tiger Band Members" were named each week of football season, and among those receiving the honors were Courier Editor Barbara Fredrickson and Principal Jesse Harwell.

The second annual band banquet was held Valentine's Day, with most of the 188-member marching band attending. Dinner and dancing to the sounds of Doppelganger made for an enjoyable evening for all. In the spring, a pops concert and UIL concert and Sight reading Contest were major undertakings for the Concert and Symphonic bands, with high hopes for Sweepstakes in the air. As an end to this eventful year, a spring trip was also planned. The band showed a whole new, exciting side of itself this year, proudly flaunting its new image as a vital part of CHS.

SPIRIT

Preparing for a football season of cheering and boosting spirits, football cheerleaders began perfecting themselves at summer camp held in San Marcos, Texas. They were rewarded in their cheering abilities with six superior ribbons, two excellent ribbons, one superior ribbon for their pom pom routine, and received the spirit stick for their overall performance. This was quite a beginning for them and when the season rolled around they proved themselves with excellent cheers and chants. They used their talents at boosting and pepping up school spirit among the student body and faculty. Most important was always lifting up the football team's spirit for winning which, with their help, completed a 10-0 season.

Any one passing by the CHS gymnasiums on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays was liable to hear a ferocious crowd backing the CHS basketball teams and leading those roaring crowds were the 1980-81 basketball cheerleaders. These eight girls put a tremendous amount of time and spirit into supporting their teams. They sold football ribbons, pins, and pompoms to replenish the cheerleading equipment and to pay for their annual trip at the end of the year. This year the girls will be going to Padre Island on their well-deserved vacation.

Originality is the key word

During summer camp at Trinity University, Troika members began learning how to design and plan Conroe High's literary magazine. Members became experienced at writing poetry, designing layouts, with special emphasis placed on unique ways of designing literary magazines. When school rolled around in September, members buckled down for the real thing and started collecting original poetry, short stories, drawings, and photographs from fellow students and faculty. In May when the magazine was at last completed, members sold copies to the student body and surrounding community.

One of the fund-raising projects this year was the sale of calendars which contained original poetry and photographs from the student body and faculty. Another project was selling patronages to local businesses and anyone else wanting to help in the publication of Troika. Funds received from these projects were used solely for the publication expenses of the literary magazine.

Working on a layout, David Bauerlein prepares for production of their calendar.

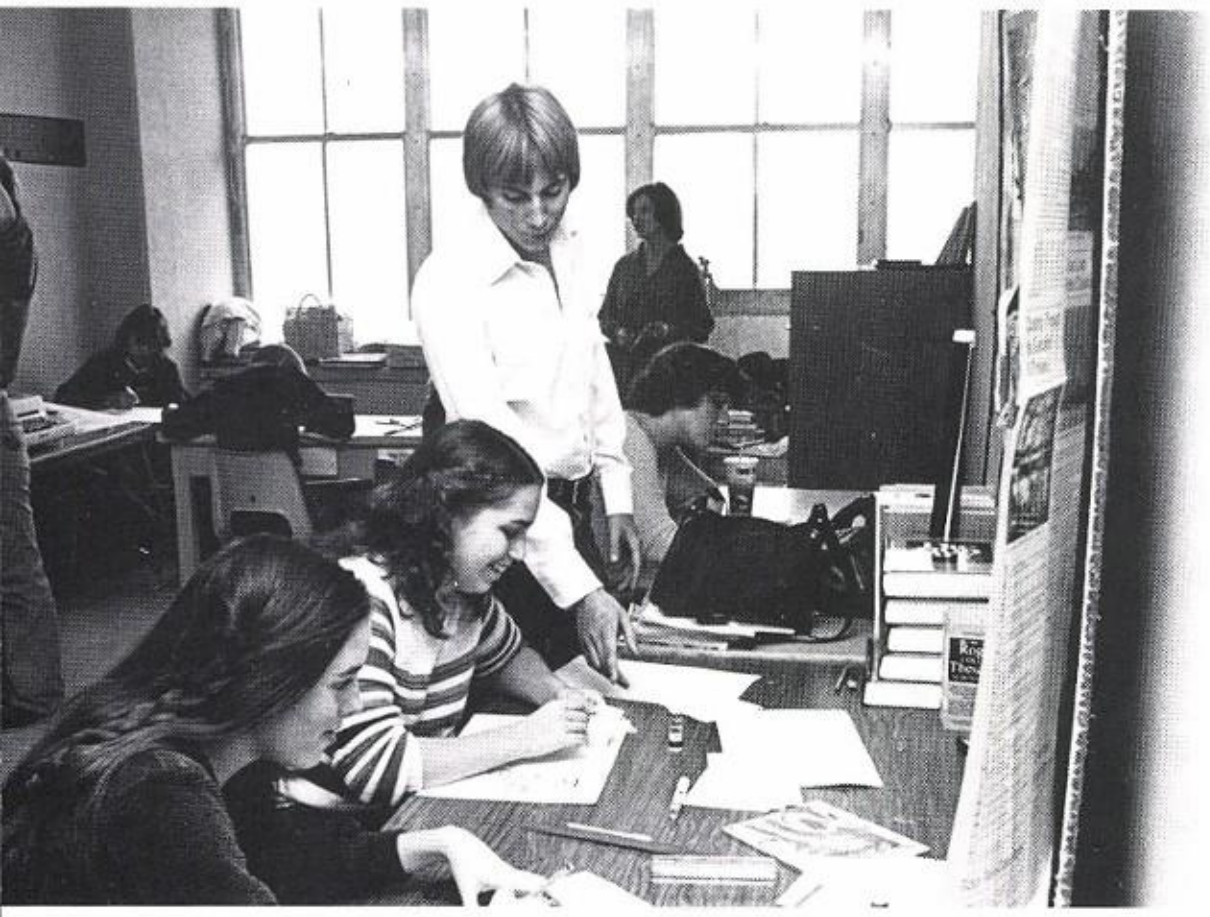
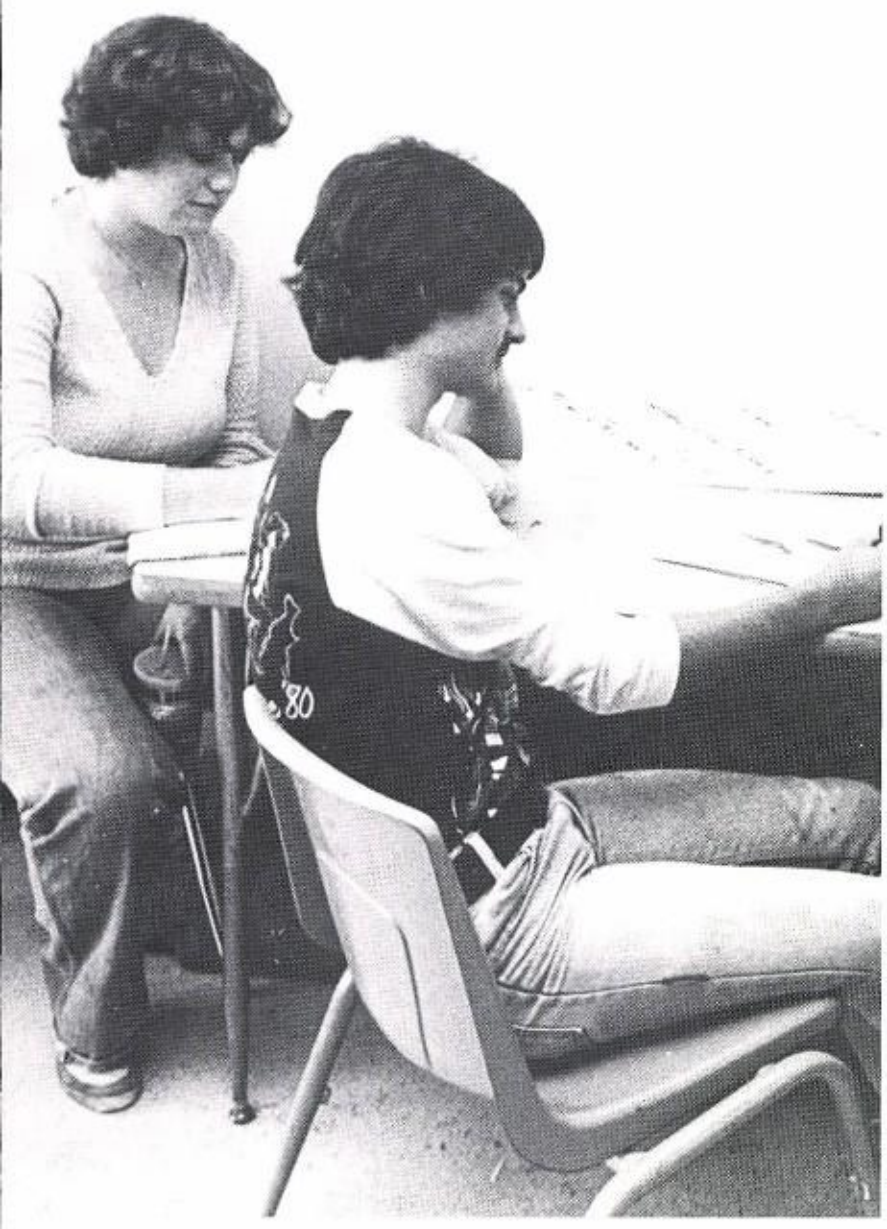
Still finding time for fun, Julie Weise with help from Mrs. Morton, types an assignment.



With the assistance of Russell Vick, Denise Williamson and Melanie Wyatt draw pictures for the literary magazine.



Mrs. Morton watches Dawn Glass design a poster.

Fun, Friends and Forensics

The N.F.L. Members.

Ask someone what N.F.L. is, and they will probably tell you the National Football League. Although this is true, it is not the case at C.H.S. N.F.L. stands for National Forensics League. The National Forensics League consists of the speech and debate team that represent Conroe High in various speech tournaments throughout the state. These tournaments feature categories in prose, poetry, debate, dramatic and humorous interpretation, oration, and other types of speaking. The Conroe Forensics League did very well in tournament competition this year. They placed first overall in the New Caney tournament as well as winning other top sweepstakes trophies this year. Students earned speaking points at tournaments and earned various degrees and honors through the N.F.L. The speech and debate team not only attended local tournaments, but also tournaments as far away as Austin. They faced not only exhausting trips but also rigorous competition against some of the best speakers in the state. They attended the State Forensic and the Drama State tournaments in the spring. Also they represented C.H.S. in U.I.L.

Besides the hours of practice, the members of the N.F.L. found time for having fun by having a Halloween and Christmas party, and having a banquet at the end of the year. Thanks to the N.F.L. the name Conroe High means more than excellence in sports, but also a group of talented top competitive speakers that together equal a winning team. Isn't that what C.H.S. is all about?

Math Club Sums It All Up

Students who do math for fun? It may sound odd but that just about describes the Math Club. These students have managed to take a chore and turn it into a hobby. The Math Club tutored students having trouble with math for free every other Wednesday night. Math Club wasn't all equations this year though, they had a Christmas party and attended the Engineering Conference at A&M University in January. To fund this trip, the Math Club had a bake sale. It all added up to a year of fun and learning.

Deep in thought, Math Club members plan their activities.

Sponsor, Mr. Konecny, advises the group on tutoring sessions.

Students of Today, Scientists of Tomorrow

CHS Science Club started off the 1980-81 year with a scientific scavenger hunt. Winners of the hunt were treated to a free dinner at Mr. Gatti's compliments of the Science Club. December brought the annual Christmas party where the Flare Cornation candidates were announced. They were queen candidate, Charlene Toland and lady-in-waiting, Amy Thompson. As usual on Valentine's Day the halls were filled with thousands of beautiful carnations from the Science Club carnation sales. Members finished off the year with a field trip to a hospital in Houston where they were lucky enough to witness an actual surgery.

Jana Hall and Lori Plumer carefully prepare carnations for the Science Club's Valentine's Day deliveries.

FLARE STAFF

FLARE STAFF: Never at a standstill

Along with the regretted departure of last year's Senior Flare Staffers, came the initiations of the new staffers. These members were introduced to the good and evil activities involved in creating the yearbook. All of us, old and new, hold precious memories made throughout the year. Summer camp brought the fear of meeting the new Flare sponsor, Gloria Traylor. As always first impressions proved to be wrong. Working under Mrs. Traylor was a real learning experience. Aside from obtaining the basic knowledge of assembling a yearbook, many Staffers became acquainted with a few slang German expressions. After the dreaded meeting we gave a big sigh of relief and got into the swing of things at Journalism Camp. Even with the six hour classes and preparing a dummy copy of the Flare, Staffers always seemed to put aside some time for fun such as all night frisbee football, spontaneous toga parties, shaving cream and water balloon fights, Pacer's 59 not so funny psychiatrist jokes, dancing, bon fires, harrassing proctors, and sneaking off campus.

Like all organizations, Flare Staff was not without field trips. We will never forget the trip to "Gilley's" and "Gilley's" will never forget us. Most of the guys on Staff held "not so fond memories of the bull for weeks afterwards.

December brought the Yuletide spirit to the Staff which wa celebrated by a Christmas party at John Paul's lake house. Fo lowing tradition, the gag gifts exchanged among members turne a few faces red. They couldn't make it down the chimney so gue who showed up on the doorstep? You guessed it, Santa Claus an his li'l elf! (alias, Stank and Runt)

Finally, we can't forget about our hectic deadlines during whic everything was possible. Anything that could go wrong, di Although photographers received a lot of hassle during thes times they always came through in the end.

After bringing in the new year, members started preparing fo the Flare Coronation. Two weeks of hard labor went into th memorable extravaganza.

The moment the entire student body had waited for final came with the arrival of yearbooks in May. These made a lastin memory for students because they could look back and reminis over all the good times during their high school years.

A Golden Gal

Talent, hard-work, and dedication have all been factors that combined to make the Golden Girls a success year after year. But this year there was something extra, something that turned impressive halftime performances into spectacular, eye-catching productions, and made stiff plastered smiles become heartfelt grins, sparkling with animation. This "something extra" came in the form of Diane Watson, the Golden Girls' talented new sponsor.

Born and raised in the small town of Yaokum, Texas, Miss Watson led a very active life. She was chosen as a cheerleader for six straight years, played basketball, and tennis, and was a member of the band as well. Along with all this, she was involved in Science Club, FTA, held a class office, and was a member of Student Council.

While attending Southwest Texas State University, Miss Watson became involved in the Student Senate, Texas Student Education Association, Young Republicans, was on the Dorm Advisory Board, and was also a member of Kappa Delta Pi, an honor society. As a freshman, she became involved in the drill team, the Strutters, and worked her way from lieutenant to Head Captain by her senior year. Somewhere along the line, Miss Watson discovered her main interest, Special Education, and eventually majored in it. Today at CHS, she teaches two English Resource classes and an adaptive P.E. class along with sponsoring the Golden Girls.

Coach spins new Webb

Cheerleaders, Pep-Squad, and fans pepped "Hold'em Defense, Hold'em Defense!" and that's just what the 1980-81 Tiger defense did. But the question was, "Who was that new man behind our dynamic defense this year?" The answer can be found in the smiling face of defensive line coach David Webb.

Coach Webb is a native of Pasadena, Texas, and has a long history of athletic accomplishments. In high school, he played both quarterback and runningback, and helped carry his team, the Eagles, to the State 4-A Finals in 1958. After graduating, he attended Lamar University where he played safety on defense. The Cardinals, with his support, won the 1962 Tangerine Bowl in Orlando, Florida.

Although Coach Webb originally majored in marketing, he found his true love to be in the athletic field, and took his first coaching job in 1964 for Pasadena High School, his Alma Matre. During his thirteen year stay at Pasadena, he coached not only football, but basketball and swimming as well. In 1977, he and his family moved to Kerrville, Texas where he took a job at Tivy High School, coaching football and baseball for three years. With the help of his direction in the offensive backfield, the Tivy Antlers won Zone all three years of his stay, and wrapped up a total of 29 wins, 3 losses, and 1 tie. Webb's coaching talents also carried the Tivy baseball team to the play-offs in 1979-80. This year, Conroe High School received the honor of adding Coach Webb's talents to our fine coaching staff.

A Hidden History

With all the rush to turn in assignments, keep up with homework, or just simply pass a test, students rarely take the time to even wonder what their teachers are really like. In fact, it may just come a surprise to find that many of the teachers at Conroe High School have some pretty interesting achievements from their own high school years. This is the case with Fred Rush, the new CVAE Science teacher.

Mr. Rush is from a little town just outside of Galveston, Texas, called Arcadia, now known as Sante Fe, Texas. Here he attended Sante Fe High, and spent four years participating in practically every sport offered. The fall and winter months found him displaying his talents as quarterback for the football team, and following that, in his favorite sport, basketball. Then as basketball season ended, and the weather warmed up, Mr. Rush took to the baseball field playing both pitcher and shortstop, and somehow managed to swing golf at the same time. By the end of his senior year, all his dedication and hard work paid off as he received the honor of being chosen All District in baseball for his third year, as well as in basketball and football.

After attending Sam Houston State University, Mr. Rush returned to Sante Fe High School and taught for one year before taking the position as head basketball coach at Willis High School in 1973. In 1977-78, Willis won district in basketball for the first time in a number of years. They followed this accomplishment again the following year, and Mr. Rush was deservedly named Montgomery County Coach of the Year in Basketball. Following this he spent a year as assistant basketball coach for Clear Creek before taking his present position on the CHS teaching staff.

Moffitt Power

"Ladies and gentlemen, presenting the Conroe High School Marching Band!" This was a familiar sound on Friday nights as assistant band director Rick Moffit directed fans to cast their attention centerfield for the many breathtaking performances by the band. Mr. Moffit, in his first year with Conroe High School, brought many changes and improvements to the school's largest entertaining group, particularly to the twirlers and members of the flag corps for whom he gives special direction, including choreography.

Growing up the son of a band director, Mr. Moffit was continually subjected to the musical field. By the time he completed high school, he had been a drum major for five years, and had taken up twirling as well. In fact, it was his twirling that gained him a scholarship to the University of Houston, where he received two degrees, one in Geology, and another in Music. During this time he was Feature Twirler for one year, and drum major for seven years following that. Among the honors he has received for his twirling are the titles of Michigan State Champion, 1969, and Texas State Champion, 1970-71, along with being ranked 2nd in the nation in 1971.

After graduating in 1977, Mr. Moffit went into business for himself, selling band supplies for just over two years. At the present time he teaches two band classes in the morning, works with the Junior High band students, and has Marching Band in the afternoons.

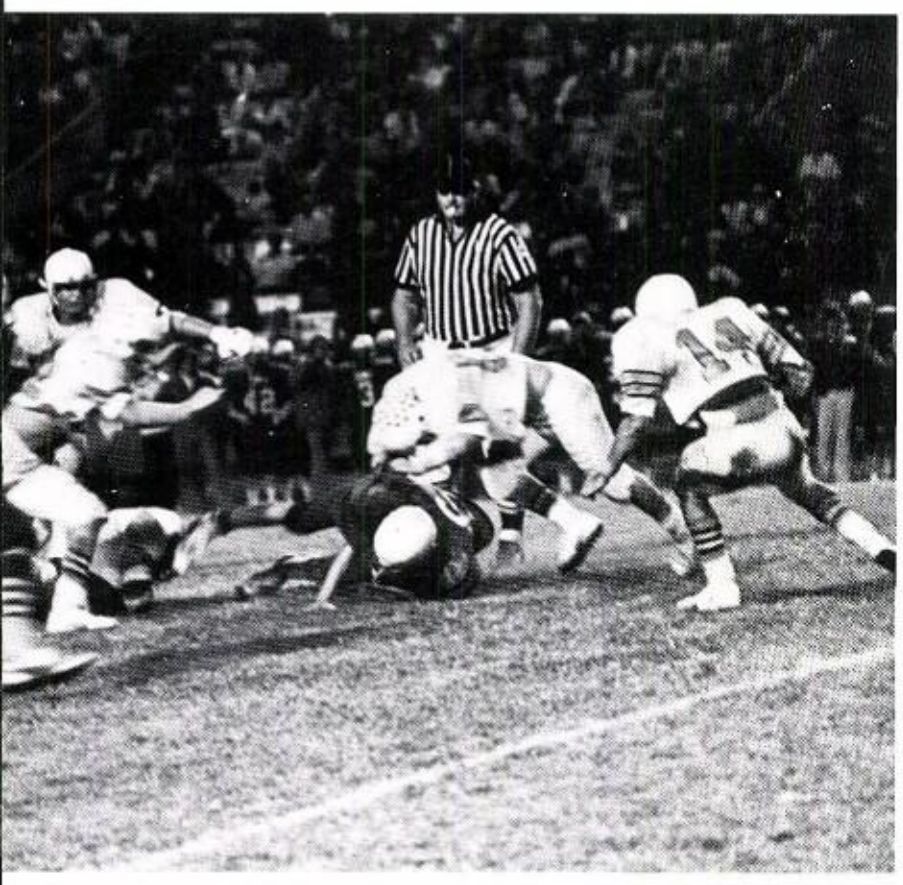
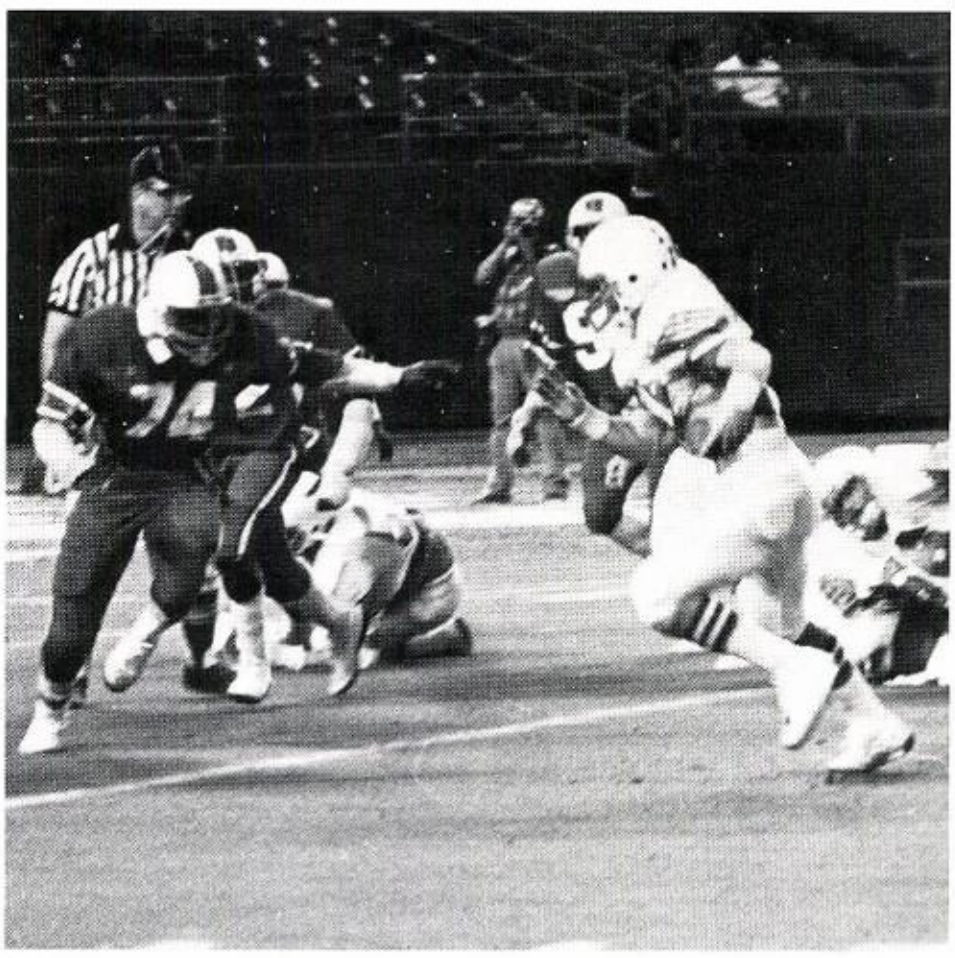
Pre-district triumphs typify '80 season



The Conroe Tiger Football Team opened their 1980 season full of excitement and vigor. In the opening game with Aldine, the only excitement was that it was the opening game after the Tigers defeated them 32-7. The Lufkin game was a different story. The Tigers squeaked by with a close 21-20 victory in a very tense confrontation. Next came Kashmere in the Astrodome. The squad played with the intensity and enthusiasm they had been lacking in earlier games. Conroe polished out 433 total yards offense, while also stopping the superior speed of the Rams. Coach Smith commented saying, "That was the most intensity we've played with all year." Reed Killion, George Landry, Kevin Anderson, and quarterback Ross Williams bulled for yardage exceeding 350 yards, with Landry scoring three touchdowns. As an added attraction, 325-pound "Big Dave" Fulton, intercepted a pass and turned his bulk into speed. Credit was due everywhere, and everyone deserved it. The Tigers were ready for anything to come at them after that game. A district berth was definitely at hand.

Reading a draw play, Conroe secondary converge on a Kashmere running back.

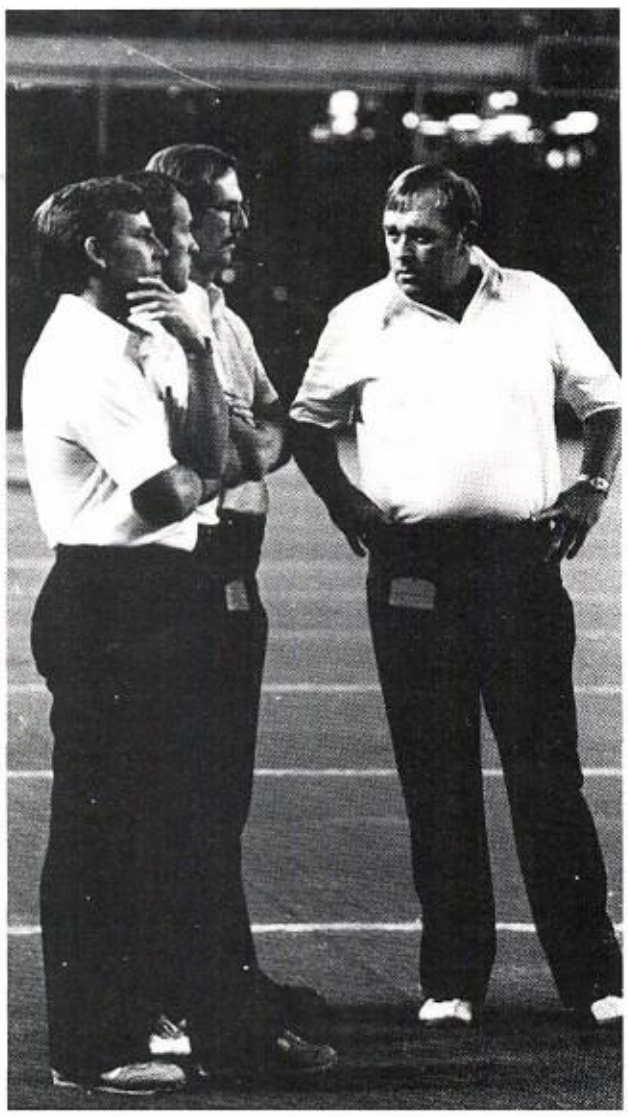


Eyeing the goal line, quarterback Ross Williams bulls for a touchdown.

After an interception, Craig Campbell sprints around end.

Not this time Klein . . .

TIGERS DISTRICT 16-5A CHAMPIONS



Before the Kashmere game, Head Coach Moorhead discusses strategy with fellow coaches.

Behind a wall of blockers, Max Webb returns a punt for 27 yards.

As new Head Football Coach Buddy Moorhead put it, if we have everything together, we will be a "rolling ball of butcher knives" cutting down everyone that comes our way. That is exactly what the 1980 Conroe Tigers have done. District 16-5A Champions, it sounds so sweet!

The Tigers had no trouble mowing down early district opponents. The #4 ranked Tigers blitzed Spring 43-7, but they had a scare when they just squeaked by Klein Forest 28-13. The score definitely did not indicate the closeness of the game. Cypress Creek and Jersey Village were Conroe's next victims, defeating them 34-14 and 42-7 respectively.

The next game was the game everyone had been waiting for. It was "Black Friday" at CHS on October 30, 1980 and the Klein Bearkats were coming to Conroe. The Tigers entered the field clad in their vibrant black uniforms; the first time in black this season. With a year's worth of frustration to motivate them, the Tigers were out to kill.

Klein took the opening kickoff, marched 71 yards and scored. That was all the Tigers were going to let them have. Qu terback Ross Williams led the Tigers ri back with runs of 22 and 17 to set George Landry's 1-yard score. Ron Cla converted the kick. Reed Killion blas for a 26-yard score and later Land scored from 43 yards out to clinch the v tory. The defense played its "best game the year" according to Coach Moorhe They held Mike Klein to 26 yards rushi Terrell Plamer made the "biggest play the game" when he foiled an attemp fake punt. Max Webb intercepted fourth pass of the year and returned it yards. Everybody sat down and breathe little easier.

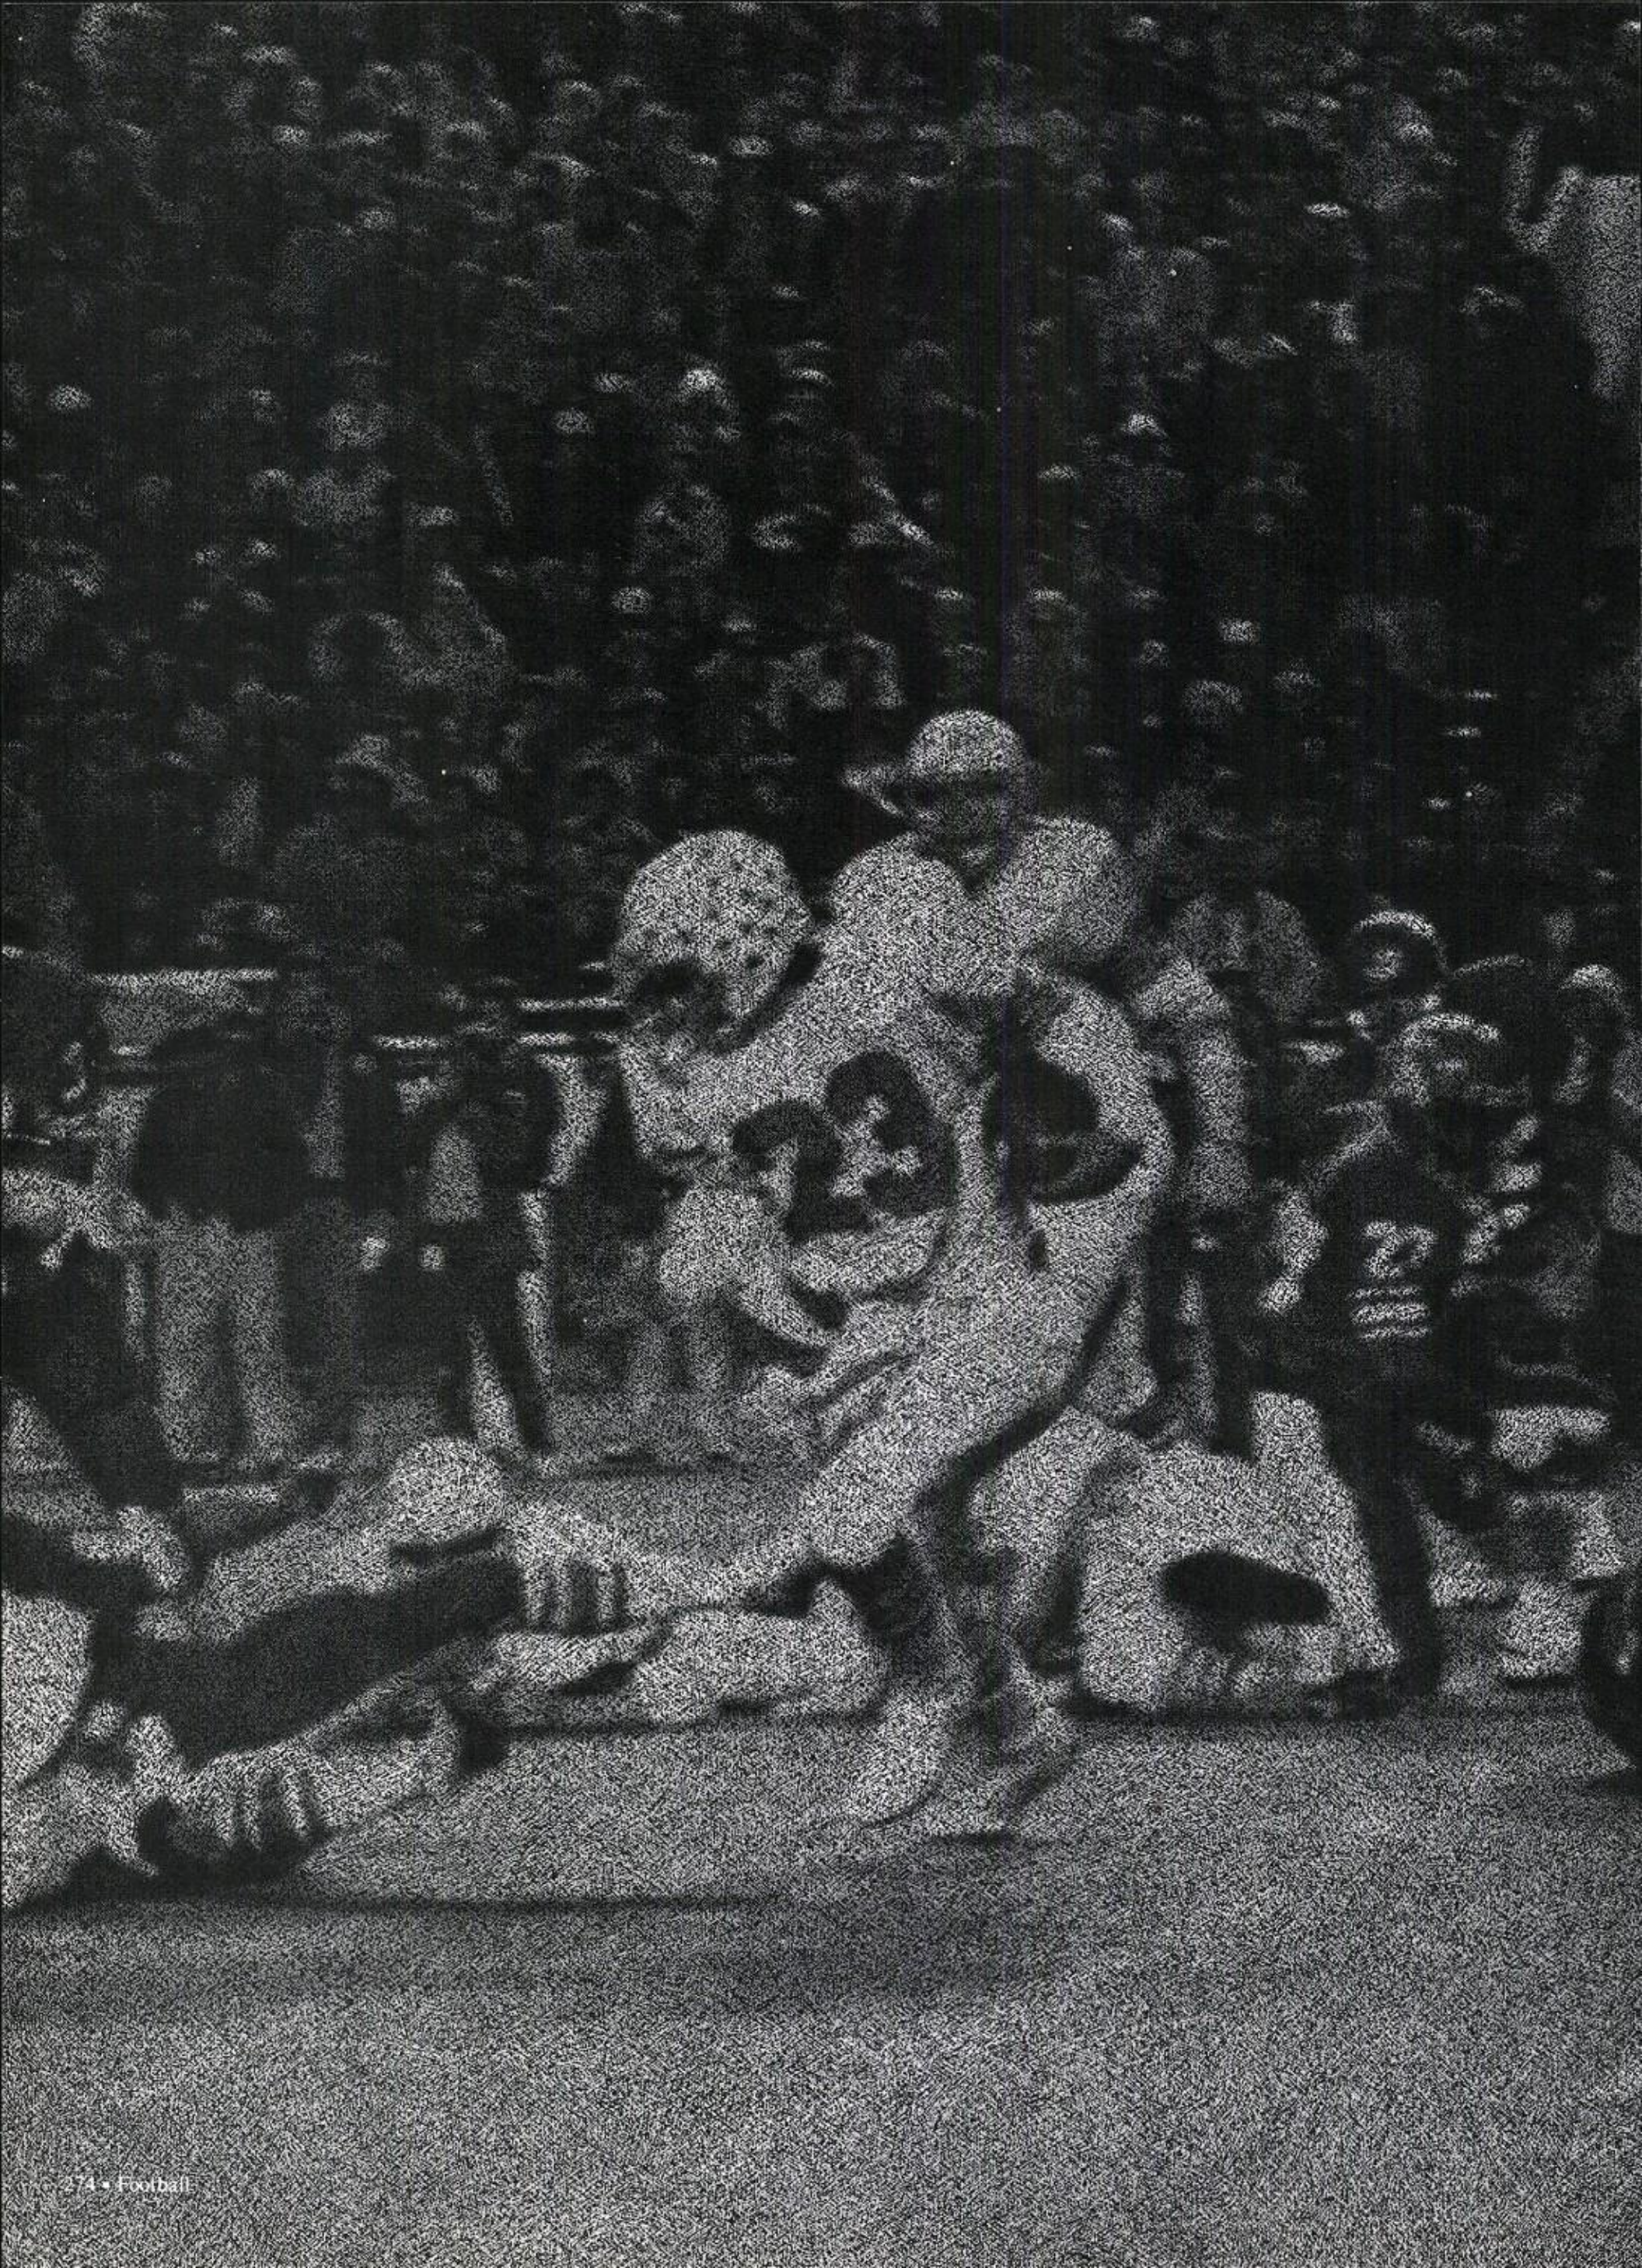
After the Klein game, the Tige clinched District 16-5A by defeating a rival McCullough. The Ross Williams Danny Williamson combination shone the sun. Williamson hauled in eight pas for 131 yards and three touchdowns.

The playoffs were in sight. Playoff c tenders out of 16-5A better look because that "rolling ball of butch knives" was on its way.

Under a mass of bodies, Mike Klein loses five yards and the ball.

Speeding around the right side, pincher Terrell Palmer prepares to crush the quarterback.

On a bootleg around end, Ross Williams escapes opponents' grasp.



Wildcats stun Tigers in bi-district playoffs

The stage was set at Kyle Field, College Station, Texas. The #3 ranked Conroe Tigers against the #1 ranked and fast Temple Wildcats. A slight mist was falling as the tension mounted before the opening kickoff. Temple got the ball on their own 20 yard line. Temple quarterback, Bret Stafford, got the ball and pitched out left to all-state halfback Kenneth Davis. Davis easily sprinted past the Conroe secondary and bingo, touchdown, the party was over for the Tigers. That first play from scrimmage typified the whole night for the seemingly slow Tigers. Temple definitely had superior team speed, offensively and defensively. When the Tigers were able to squeeze a back through the middle or around end, a swarm of Wildcats would be waiting. Tiger offensive coach, Dave Smith, summed up what went wrong with the offense saying, "Their ends and corners took away our outside game and that in turn hurt our inside game. And the passing game with the wet ball and all . . ."

The Tigers committed two costly turnovers and the Wildcats played a perfect game, which led them to win, 35-0. The Tigers were never able to consummate a successful scoring drive. However, the Conroe Tigers' pride and determination was evident as they readied themselves for next year's attempt for another district title and a chance for the state title.

J.V. attain title with unblemished record

Hard work and determination go into producing an unblemished record. That is just what the 1980 Junior Varsity Football Team did. Unbeaten in ten straight games, the squad executed well as a team. Quarterback Mark Webb and fullback Reagan Greer plowed holes through opponent's defenses, while Webb also completed vital aerials to Jay Muller and Scott Stephens.

The most exciting game of the year against Klein was handily won, 21-7. They were also the first junior varsity team to beat McCullough, outscoring them by 16 points. Coach Mike Ferrell commented on the year saying, "The team knew what it took and that is why we had a successful season." Being the first J.V. football squad was quite an accomplishment. With such an abundant amount of talent, the Tiger Varsity Team should look forward to having another winning season in 81.

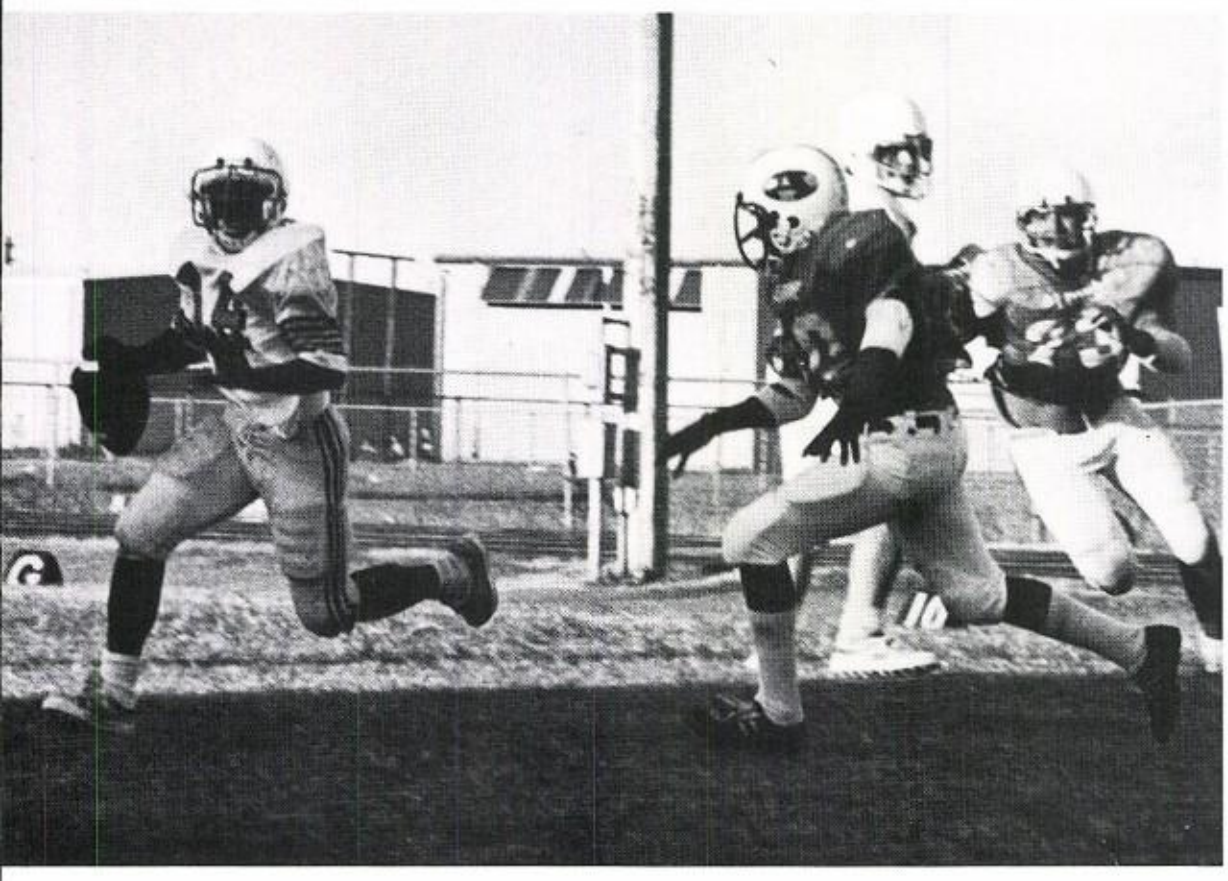
Sophs' spirit shines through disappointments



The 1980 Sophomore team started off the season with high hopes. However, due to the loss of players to the Junior Varsity, the Sophomore team suffered from a lack of depth. As a result of this, the team finished with six wins and four losses. This record was more than adequate since Coach McGallion wasn't expected to break .500 percent.

The Sophomore squad won a big contest against Lufkin, 18-6, which proved to be their best game of the year. Despite a heartbreaking loss to McCullough, the Tigers hung on to win the last game of the season. The Tiger Sophs will begin a rebuilding year, but the experience they have gained will be evident.

Frosh flawless in district actio

In their first year of high school play, the Conroe Freshman Football Team attained a perfect record, outscoring opponents 263 to 31. Led by two-way starters, Edward Thorton, Jeff Davis, Mace Meeks and Darrell Henry, the team presented Coach Burkhalter with one of his finest seasons while at Conroe High School.

The entire season was typified by the opening game against Aldine, in which Conroe won handily 24-7. Throughout the year, the consistency of the offense coupled with the kicking game proved more than the opposition could handle. The defense contributed by shutting out the opposing teams in five of ten games and allowing only four touchdowns all year.

As the season ended, the freshmen reigned as district champs. However, as there are no playoffs at sub-varsity levels, they had to be content until next year.

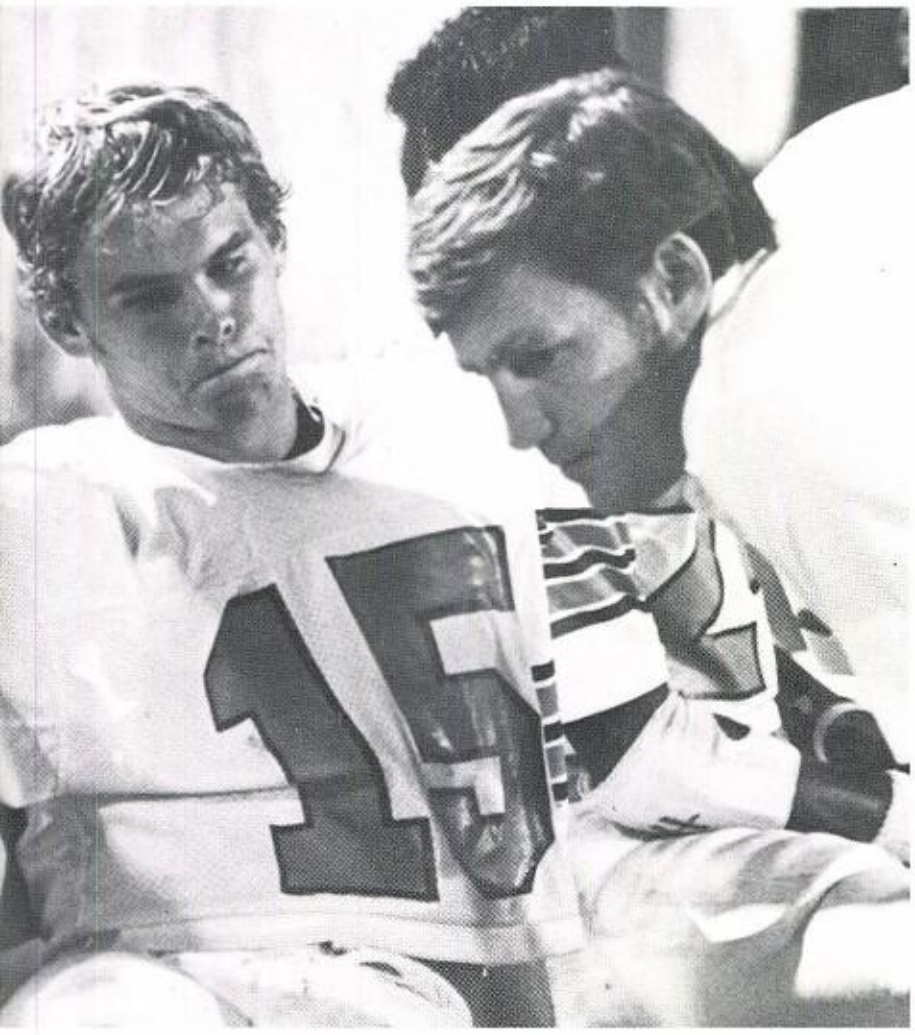
Trainers provide support to athletes



Injuries play a significant role in the success of an athlete and a team. At Conroe High, The needs of Tiger and Tigerette players were taken care of by the training staff. The trainers, guided by experienced head trainers, Mike Saly and Karen Dove, received knowledge of medical techniques and insight to the application of this knowledge. The trainers proved to be dedicated and trustworthy individuals as they worked many hours outside of school. The constant guidance and patience of the head trainers paid off for the trainers who pursue a career in medicine. With the ever-growing additions to the outstanding facilities of the training program coupled with the dedication of the trainers, the training staff proved to be a major factor in the success of individual players and the teams of CHS.

Spikers rebuild in 1980 season

An essential factor in the sport of Volleyball is teamwork. Led by Jana Giese and Kathy Hartzheim, the Varsity Tigerettes used this essential factor in the 1980 season. Despite their 11-16 record, the Tigerettes showed much promise in other areas throughout their rebuilding season. Playing without many experienced players, the Tigerettes proved tough competition for the district leading teams. The varsity coach, Mary Jo Parker, said of her team, "I knew at the first of the season that we would be either real good or real bad. Despite the latter, we improved greatly over the season. With more experience, no telling what we could have done."

The junior varsity squad, also coached by Mrs. Parker, compiled a 7-15 record. The outstanding J.V. Tigerettes were Karen Tosspon, Sonia West, and Wendy Coots, Led by these individuals, the J.V. also showed their ability to work as a team.

THE SWIM TEAM

swimmers' speed and endurance.

Tankers plunge into district

Vigorous workouts, cold water, and team depth proved to be key factors in the 1980 season for the Tiger swim team. The tankers swam very hard and increased their endurance day by day. The "six man drill," in which the whole team swam 100 yards seven times consecutively, was a vital asset toward the team's conditioning. The squad's depth was also very important. Their experience and competitiveness from past years showed to be a deciding factor in the team's success.

The swimmers posted a 2nd place finish in the Klein Forest-Humble meet and finished 7th in the Spring Relays. Charlie Holt, Bob Carlson, Scott McClean, and Bob Swoop combined for the boys' medley relay, while Lori Plummer, Meredith Killingsworth, Meredith Markey, and Anne Stouffer were the girls' leading competitors. The divers were led by Kelly Strain, Lee Dozier, and Jeff Klotz, who showed near perfect form from the boards. Tina Landry and Holly Schminkey led the girl divers with total points.

Overall, the swim team had the potential to beat any team in District 16-5A. Coach Hellard commented on the year saying, "We have a lot of depth and if the team swims to their potential, we should definitely have a winning season."

Tigers boast best finish ever

Securing a fourth place finish in Region, Tiger cross country runners made the best finish ever by a Conroe team. With the leadership of returning lettermen Scot Hayward, David Comacho, and Kevin Bull, the harriers had the depth necessary to excel in all levels of competition.

Coach Carter got his team ready in time to place first in the opening meet of the season at College Station on September 13. Through hard work and concentrated effort, the Tigers placed high in every meet. They posted first place finishes in three meets and second place in three other meets including the District 16-5A meet at Camp Strake. This fine performance qualified the runners for regional competition in Pasadena on November 15. The Conroe team just missed qualifying for the state meet with fourth place finish in Pasadena.

Several Tiger runners were outstanding on the 1980 cross country team. Scot Hayward placed in the top ten in every meet. His performance at district and regional meets earned him All-District and All-Region honors. It also qualified him for the state meet. Tommy Travis and David Comacho, posting high marks in every meet, provided the experience the Tigers needed in order to reach the regional level. Coach Carter was also able to count on Kevin Bull and Greg Heine for strong performances. Additional support came from Phil Reidel and Rusty Batson.

All of the Tiger cross country team contributed to the success of this year's squad. With the experience gained through competition this year and the return of several lettermen, the Conroe harriers can anticipate a great season in 1981.

Taking it all in strid

A second place finish in District 16-5A and a regional bid were the result of the long hours of training by the 1980 Tigerette cross country team. Coach Greenfield led his team to top finishes in several meets which primed the girls for district competition. Kathy Craig, Becky Cates, Sidney Fuquay, and Jackie Wilson had the experience needed to provide the team with a solid foundation.

Training for the Tigerettes began early in the year and required a great deal of determination. The girls kept their spirit high and continued throughout the season to post high marks. When the time came for the district meet, the talented runners were well-prepared and were able to defeat several fine teams. The Tigerettes kept the tradition of fine cross country teams at Conroe High. With the return of several excellent runners, Coach Greenfield anticipates that the prospects will be good for a competitive season next year.

Hardworking Tigers surprise tough opposition

Last spring when many were only thinking about the joy of no school that would soon come, a group of dedicated young men began preparation for the 1980-1981 District 16-5A basketball season. Long hours of practice and a determination to win molded the Tigers into a fine squad. As the first game approached many felt that the team, which did not possess the height of the previous years, would not be able to compete against the strong teams they would face. Local journalists felt Conroe could perhaps place sixth in district. It did not take long, though, for these assumptions to be proven false. Early in the season Conroe outclassed their mediocre opponents and only showed up in the loss column after heartbreaking losses to a few very fine opponents. A mere two points separated the Tigers from a first-place finish in the Humble Tournament and a win over the state-ranked Cy-Creek, the favorite to win district.

The backbone of the Tigers was the leadership of the seniors. Paul Fry led the team in points and rebounds, Bruce Simmons provided another scoring threat at the forward position. Several young players were standouts for the cagers. Darin Bartel, a sophomore, played the guard and forward positions. He gained varsity experience and added scoring and ball handling support. Juniors Ronnie Collins and Joe Trammell were also instrumental to Tiger success. Coach Berkman also leaned on a strong bench in key situations. Through their diligent work and concentrated team effort the Tigers overcame obstacles which surprised many. Their effort is exemplary of the true Tiger pride and spirit that exists at Conroe High.

J.V. shows promise

Junior Varsity basketball players gained valuable experience and developed vital skills that will help mold future Tiger squads. Despite disappointing losses, J.V. spirits remained high throughout the season. Coach Howard instilled in his squad a desire to win and helped mold their talents into winning material.

At the outset of the season, the problems started. Early season defeats temporarily faded hopes for a successful year. The Tigers overcame the defeats and posted a respectable record in the remainder of their games. Team statistical leaders included Owen Maat and Chet Rice, both Sophomores, and Juniors Robbie Douglass and Scott Deskins. Paul Brown provided needed support on the boards. Bruce Williams, a Freshman, and several other underclassmen gained experience on the J.V.

Without a doubt, Tiger fans can anticipate the continued success of Conroe basketball with the maturing of a talented Junior Varsity squad. Although the record books will label 1981 a failure for the Juniors, one can point to the experience they gained as a great asset.

Tigerettes sink opponents

A winning basketball team consists of certain, distinct characteristics. These include talented, experienced players, teamwork, and the desire to win. The Tigerettes proved these qualities as one opponent after another fell to defeat. In their first sixteen games, the Tigerettes posted an impressive 15-1 record while capturing first place finishes in the McCollough, Jersey Village, and Conroe Tournaments. In the Conroe Tournament, they defeated McCollough and Clear Creek before downing Victoria in the finals. In all three tournaments, talented players Laurie Rutherford and Melanie Muller received All-Tournament honors.

Teamwork and the desire to win was also evident as the Tigerettes developed leads and maintained them. In tight situations, the talented squad often produced the play that finalized a victory.

With these vital characteristics helping them, the Tigerettes vowed to regain the district crown and strive for the state championship.

Through hard practices and exceptional dedication, the young Tigerettes blazed through their opening games. The team, consisting of mainly sophomores and freshmen, won their first four games before suffering a defeat. While displaying latent talents, the Tigerettes continued to improve. Coach Eikenberg said of her team, "I am extremely pleased with our progress, but we still have a long way to go."

Lobsters net victory

With high hopes of gaining their season district championship, the 1980-81 Conroe Tiger Tennis team entered district with three preseason wins over top contenders in their division. The Tigers, favored to win their district, began early workouts in anticipation of the spring season. Confidence grew steadily as the long hours of practice and endurance drills went on.

Despite the loss of three seniors from last year's squad, the boy's team, led by Sophomores John McCauley and Ray Healy, had expectations of a winning s son. The girls team however, had lost o one starter from the year before and w strength coming from seniors Melin Markey and Debbie McAfee, were fav ites for the district title.

Greenfield's Girls Grasp District Glor

With the return of several girls from last year's team, the 1981 Girl's Track squad started off very well. As always Conroe's girls showed opponents that they were ready to compete. Compete is just what they did. Placing in several meets as a team and receiving fine individual performances throughout the season, the Tigerettes produced great results.

The hard work of the months preceding the first meet seemed to pay off as Greenfield's girls excelled as a team. Some of the outstanding individual performers were Amy Brock, Melanie Muller, and Endora Foots. Several others contributed to a fine season. In keeping with Conroe tradition, the '81 tracksters proved to be very competitive. With quite a few girls returning next year, one can anticipate a great season in 1982.

Tiger harriers defend district crow

After taking the district crown in their 1980 season, the Tiger tracksters began enthusiastically to defend their title. With long and strenuous practices, the Tigers worked faithfully and productively. Returning lettermen Danny Williamson, Scott Stephens, Kevin Bull, Leodia Jones, Scott Hayward, Tommy Travis, Daryl Jamail, and David Comacho provided excellent competition for their opponents. First year competitors Jimmy Arbuckle, Robert Stout, and Steve Carlton also displayed top quality talent.

Coach Jerry Carter was optimistic for the success of his team from the beginning. He commented, "We are building a program in which we should be able to contend with any school in the district, and maybe the state."

With the experienced and talented runners, the 1981 track team accomplished victory as well as setting the stage for future successful seasons.

Boy golfers drive for distric

With the hope of regaining the 16-5A district title, the Conroe Tiger golf team began practice with the start of school. Competing for varsity slots, each member worked to strengthen his weaknesses. Though the team is composed mainly of sophomores and juniors, they are sure to be a top contender in district.

Led by 4 returning lettermen, the team posted a 3-1 dual match record in November. After an impressive victory over Kingwood, Coach Freddie Creed commented, "We're young, but we have enough talent for two teams." Two early wins over arch rival McCullough gave the team the confidence they needed to recapture the district crown.

Lady golfers swing toward state

In 1981, the Conroe High School girls' golf team saw some new faces with the addition of three freshmen to the varsity squad. Led by first medalist Carey Ruffer, the team captured two well-earned second place finishes in both Bill Callahan Memorial and Humble High School Tournaments. With returning lettermen Peggy Ryan and Betsy McDonald, the team had both the skill and leadership needed to win district.

Conroe's toughest competition annually seems to come from Dulles High School in Strattford, however, Dulles was rezoned last year into another region leaving the district crown open for the Conroe team. Of the team's chances for a state title Coach Rook was very optimistic saying, "The girls will have to continue to put in a lot of hard work, but a trip to Austin for the state title is possible."

Pre-season victories predict district title

February 1st started practice for the Tiger Baseball team. The Tigers were in definite contention for a district berth. Coaches from the district picked Conroe to win it. Leadership from seniors David Bartel, Max Webb, Jamie Maddox, Jeff Pace, Kenny Wong, Dean Camino, and Mario Cardenas played a big part in the Tiger's success. Teamwork was a key contribution to the squad's winning ways. Jackie Giddens, Craig Campbell, and Scott Deskins were hitting threats while Maddox, Giddens, and Bartel concentrated on the pitching duties. The district was more balanced than ever before. Klein was a major contender alongside the Tigers, but Spring, Jersey Village, and McCullough all had veteran ball clubs. The Tigers took each game one at a time and stressed their hitting attack. Coach Mike Ferrell commented saying, "We have a great chance of winning our district, and if we do, advancing to the state playoffs is in sight."

As the end of another season comes to a close, Tiger participants and fans start to reminisce about the past year of gratifying victories and heartbreaking losses. Tiger athletes gained great satisfaction, achieved many goals, and maybe even learned a little about life. Throughout all our determination and hard work, memories will last a lifetime.

A spirit of unity has always been a key factor in all C-H.S. sports. We stuck together and proved to ourselves and opponents that we can be winners at anything we strived for. Coaches gave us the incentive and we took the challenge and tried our darndest to be number one. Coach Mike Barber expressed a thought that everyone probably agrees with. He said, "I want everyone to work so hard that when a team plays the Conroe Tigers the opponent knows they're in for one heck of a battle."

As graduation practice and prom signaled the end of another school year, we began to think of all that had happened over the past nine months. From the first day when we met with our old friends and made new ones, we started saying this was going to be the year that we . . . We always tried to be number one at whatever we did and gave it our damndest, seldom coming up short. When the juniors set their goal at 102,000 dollars the seniors all said that they couldn't do it, but when the juniors reached 108,000 dollars on the last day of sales the seniors were proud of the juniors . . .

Scott
You probably won't remember that you asked me to sign.
because but you know you have got to be one of the craziest guys I know &
have a great summer
Love
Maria

. . . accomplishment, almost as much as the juniors were, because this paved the way for a spectacular prom. In sports the Boys Varsity Basketball team surprised everyone with their determination and ability to totally dominate their opponents, when they swept through the first half of district with 24 wins and 3 losses. Not only in sports and magazine drives, but all over the school visitors could see the pride we at Conroe took in being able to call ourselves the best! Yes, the folks at Conroe are different from other schools in what and how we do things, but then we're CONROE HIGH.

Scott,

I really hate to take up a whole page but it'll take it to describe our whole year.
